TRIUMPHAL ENTRY TO ADRIANOPLE

King Ferdinand Receives Sword of Turkish Commander—Turks Routed at Tchatalja Forts

ADRIANOPLE, March 28.—King Ferdinand of Bulgaria today entered the fortress of Adrianople, which recently fell before the assault of the combined Bulgarian and Serbian armies. He drove through long lines of Turkish prisoners and proceeded to the military club, where Shukri Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, handed him his sword. King Ferdinand returned him the sword with a few complimentary words.

Shortly afterward, accompanied by his two sons and Gen. Savoff, Ivanoff and Petroff, his majesty reviewed his victorious troops.

The attempt made by the Turks to destroy the railroad bridge over the Maritza river was partially successful, but repairs are being carried out and trains will be running within a week.

TURKS WERE ROUTED BY BULGARS FROM THE DEFENSE OF THE FORTS

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 28.—The recent fighting between the Bulgarian and Turkish armies at the Tchatalja lines resulted in a complete reverse of the Turkish troops who after a short but stubborn defense of their advanced posts began a retreat which soon became a panic-stricken rout.

In spite of the stories of long continued and desperate fighting only 500 wounded soldiers have been brought to the hospitals.

The news of the capture of Adrianople has cast a gloom over official circles while the press generally expresses the opinion that recent events will make the task of the European powers harder and peace is believed to be farther away now than it was some days ago.

PARK SUPERINTENDENT

May be Elected by Park Commission Tonight

The park commission will meet tonight and may proceed to the election of a chairman, and a superintendent to succeed Mr. Whitte, resigned. Commissioner Carr, some time ago, requested an opinion from the city solicitor relative to the power of the park commission to elect its chairman, and this forenoon the following opinion was submitted:

March 28, 1913.
Mr. Henry Carr, Park Commissioner, City of Lowell.

Dear Sir:
In response to your inquiry relative to the power of the park commission to elect its chairman, the city solicitor is of the opinion that every deliberative body has a right to elect its chairman in conformity with the rules adopted by it for its government.

Respectfully,
J. Joseph Hennessy,
City Solicitor.

Norman for Superintendent
John Woodbury Kerman, a civil engineer, is a candidate for superintendent of parks and has, it is stated, at least two votes on the board. Mr. Kerman, as has been stated, is a civil engineer and has had considerable experience in his special line and he is said to be well recommended. His home is at 23 Bellevue street. He has been employed in various capacities under the department of agriculture at Washington from which he holds a good recommendation. He is also highly recommended by an official of the city of Wakefield, under whom he was employed.

ALL READY FOR PARADE

Big Turn Out Expected Tomorrow

All arrangements for the monster parade which is to be held Saturday afternoon are now completed and all leads to a flattering success, providing the weather man does not butt in at the last minute and make it disagreeable. However, this is not looked for at all and it is believed the parade in honor of St. Patrick in which most of the Catholic organizations of the city will participate will be an unprecedented event in the history of the city of Lowell.

The parade is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock sharp and at the request of many, the Sun again publishes today the route of the march, which is as follows:
Formation on Broadway. From Broadway to Suffolk, where it will be reviewed at St. Patrick's church by church dignitaries. From Suffolk to Merrimack, to Central, to Corbitt and to Davis square. From there the paraders will march down Back Central street to Church, to High, to Barrett, Fayette, to East Merrimack, to Bridge, to Courtmarch and Seventh, and back to Merrimack square and Merrimack street as far as John street.

Always Have Musterole in the House

Every family should have a jar of MUSTEROLE at hand.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, which takes the place of the old-fashioned mustard plaster and does not blister.

No plaster is necessary, simply rub it on—and the pain is gone!

It is the quickest relief for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Numbness, Headache, Constipation, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chafings, Frost-bitten Feet, Colds of the Chest, it prevents Pneumonia. Nothing like MUSTEROLE for croupy children.

At your druggist's in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Sold by druggists everywhere. Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, O., and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

William Niss, Sacramento, Cal.: "Our friends and ourselves would not willingly be without Musterole, as it has saved doctor's expenses many times."

where it will be reviewed by the chief marshal and dismissed.

Special Order No. 2

The following being special order No. 2, from the office of the chief marshal of the parade, has been issued:

Alexander Cryan will do escort duty for the Holy Name society of St. Michael's church, previous order contemplated.

Frank McCormack will report at the Polish school on High street at 1:15 o'clock and escort the Polish military organization to its point of rest.

James E. Sullivan will report at the Middlesex street depot and assist Mr. Timothy McManis in the formation of the Manchester Liberatorians.

John H. Dwyer will report at 1:15 o'clock and escort the St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, on its arrival at the Middlesex street depot, and escort it to its place in line.

John Clowrey will report at the Middlesex street depot at 1:15 o'clock and conduct St. Mary's cadets to their point of rest.

By order of the chief marshal,
Thomas J. O'Brien, Chief of Staff.

Chief Marshal McManis has provided sprigs of real shamrock for the aides. The shamrock can be procured at his store.

Division 2, A. O. H.

There was a special meeting of Division 2, A. O. H., Wednesday night with a large attendance. All arrangements were finally completed for the parade. The division will be headed by the Mathew life and drum corps of Lawrence. The officers will wear tall hats, frock coats, dark trousers, white gloves, ascot ties and carry batons. The members will wear their full regalia and white gloves, and will meet at Elys hall, Middle street, not later than 1 o'clock.

Orders for St. Michael's Holy Name.

The Holy Name society of St. Michael's parish met last night and completed final arrangements for the parade on Saturday.

It was decided that the dress be dark suits and white gloves. The members of the society and all the men of the parish who are going to turn out, can secure gloves at the church before the parade. The men will meet at the church at 1 o'clock sharp where the Naval Marine band of Charlestown will be waiting to escort them to Liberty square where they will take their places in line.

ONE DEAD, ANOTHER DYING

Wire Dropped in Water Causes Dangerous Explosion at Abendroth Foundry in Portchester

GREENWICH, Conn., March 28.—An explosion in the Abendroth Bros. foundry in Portchester late yesterday afternoon caused by the dropping of a wire through one of the windows, where it struck Paul Zeppert, a moulder, in the stomach, killing him.

Walter Clements, another employee, was taken to the hospital in a dying condition. It is believed the dumped wire landed in a pool of water, causing the explosion.

TRAIN SERVICE BLOCKED

By Washouts Between Middlebury and Rutland

BURLINGTON, Vt., March 28.—The railroad situation by reason of the flood was better today to the north and west than south of this city. Trains ran over the Rutland railroad without difficulty to House Point, N. Y., over the Central Vermont, as far east as Montpelier and to St. Albans and Montpelier. Washouts to the south over the Rutland line together with high water along Otter river and the loss of a bridge between Middlebury and Rutland stopped all traffic in that direction. Late Champlain was fairly high today, but no damage resulted along the water front.

BAY STATE STREET R. R.

Takes Out Permit for $60,000 Building

The cost of the new brick and concrete car barns to be built by the Bay State street railway in Middlesex street is estimated at $60,000. A permit for the erection of the building was taken out this morning at the office of the commissioner of public property and licenses. The building will have a front of 34 feet, 4 inches; rear the same, and it will be 238 feet and 2 inches deep. It will be 159 feet from the street line, and besides the barns it will contain offices, store rooms, etc. It will be of mill construction, 12 by 12 posts and will have 16 skylights, metal frame. The building will be equipped with automatic sprinklers and heated by steam. It will be built of brick and concrete and will be one story high.

Sulpholac Restores the Health of the Skin

Acne, pimples and blackheads are developed by the accumulation of waste matter and unhealthy tissue in the pores, a perfect home for germs. The skin quickly becomes irritated, infected and inflamed.

All skin eruptions which are caused by germs are promptly killed by Sulpholac. It contains sulphur—and sulphur is so valuable in caring for the skin that many attempts have been made to successfully incorporate it in a cream. Here it is combined with a highly-prized germ destroyer, Sulpholac reaches the cause of the trouble—the germ.

Prescribed by physicians for years. Now on sale at your druggist's. Invest $5c in a good-sized jar, with full directions, and see how it clears your skin. For free sample write Hudson & Co., Inc., 149 and 151 West 36th street, New York.

LOOKING FOR MURDERER

Thirty Sympathizers of Ligoris Hunting

WORCESTER, March 25.—That 30 members of a secret Albanian society, who are sympathizers of Ligoris, who was murdered in his room at 176 Southbridge street Tuesday, have left their places of employment in this city and are now seeking refuge in New England for the purpose of fleeing and investigation against the Albanian society of Worcester yesterday.

A number were found to be hiding from their places of employment, and inquiry resulted in the news that more than 20 were missing from town, but would soon return. When asked if the men were members of a party, which is to have for object this work, they answered by the contrary. The police are inclined to believe that the murder was first an revenge and not robbery case. That he was assisted by a certain faction is also the opinion of the police.

According to reports last night the friends of Ligoris are working in Boston, Brockton, Fall River, and other places where they hope to secure clues as to the whereabouts of the slayer of Ligoris.

Capt. Amundson, Hays Aeroplane
SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Capt. Amundson, discoverer of the South pole, has signed a contract to buy two hydro aeroplanes which he will take with him into the Arctic on his next voyage of exploration in 1914.

Amundson made his first flight as a passenger on March 24, with Silas Christofferson and today he announced his plans to leave before the end of the month for the Arctic passage in June, 1914. He will study during for three months. Thorvald Nilsen, captain of the Frigate, and Helmer Hansen, his aide, who accompanied him on his first dash to the South pole will be fellow pupils. Knute Sundbeck, chief engineer of the Frigate will master the theory of construction and repair of the planes. Amundson believes the hydro-aeroplane will be useful in the summer months, when there is much open water for reconnaissance and observation.

Court Gen. Shields
The members of Court Gen. Shields, No. 4, F. of A. 1844, an important meeting in Eke's hall last night. PATIENTS ARE IMPROVED

Hospital Head Reports on Vaccine Inoculation

NEW YORK, March 25.—Seven of the 26 patients whom Dr. Friedrich F. F. inoculated with his tuberculin vaccine at the Hospital for the Insane and Joint Diseases last week have shown marked improvement, according to a statement yesterday by Dr. Henry W. Fraumholtz, head of the hospital staff.

Several of these cases are of ten and the others of five years standing. One, a girl, is able to walk her knees for the first time in five years. Dr. Fraumholtz said. The other 20 patients treated were "borderline" cases and no reports from their homes have been received at the hospital. At this institution Dr. Fraumholtz treated 21 new cases yesterday.

To Recognize China

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Early conferences today between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Assistant Secretary Adams of the state department led to a well defined intimation that the United States today probably would formally recognize the new republic of China.

KILLED ON CROSSING

Medford Woman Struck
by Train

WEST MEDFORD, March 25.—Mrs. Anna Fuller, aged 21, wife of Aubrey L. Fuller of 79 Canal st. West Medford, was struck by the inbound Nashua express to Boston at the Canal street crossing of the Southern division of the Boston & Maine railroad in West Medford about 5:15 last evening while on her way home. She died on the train which was stopped about 300 feet from the crossing to take her to a hospital in Boston.

A bundle, which Mrs. Fuller dropped on the railroad track, while hurrying over the crossing, it understood to have been the probable cause of the accident. The woman stopped to pick up the bundle and was struck by the locomotive before she could get off the track.

The crossing tender, Dennis McCarthy, saw the woman start across the tracks after the gates were down. He showed a warning to her and she hurried her steps. When just over the inner rail of the inbound tracks the bundle, one of those she had with her, slipped and fell to the ground. She stooped to pick it up and was struck and dragged 15 feet.

The body was taken to the North Grove street morgue in Boston and word was sent by her husband and sister, Mrs. Robert Wagner of 128 Boston avenue, North Medford.

The body was taken by Mr. Fuller to Appleton, Me., this morning, where the funeral will take place. Mrs. Fuller was a native of Prince Edward Island and came to West Medford with her husband last fall. She was employed at the Mystic Rubber factory on Arlington street. The couple were married Sept. 9, 1911.

A MATRIMONIAL CLUB

Wellesley Girls Deny
Having One

WELLESLEY, March 25.—Simply because they spent four years in serious study in winning degrees as bachelors of art, Wellesley College girls do not propose to wait until they find husbands having incomes of $5000 a year before taking the degree of "Mrs." Yesterday officials in Wellesley finished questioning every undergraduate girl, more than 100 in all, as result of rumors that had reached the faculty that a considerable number of girls had formed a secret society with the motto, "Give us husbands with $5000 incomes or give us liberty!"

Every girl who the investigating committee "on her honor" it was announced yesterday, that no such club exists and that no plans are in prospect for the formation of one.

VESPER COUNTRY CLUB

Elects Directors and Adopts Amendments

At the annual meeting of the Vesper-Country club held last night at Tyng's Island, about 150 members were present and the following were elected to serve on the board of directors:

For three years—Albert H. Morton, Arthur J. Murkland and Andrew J. Swapp.

For two years—Fred P. Marble, Harry G. Pollard and Perry D. Thompson.

For one year—William G. Brown, Frank E. Braubach and B. Hutchins Parker.

The concluding business was the voting on amendments to the constitution of the club. The following sections being read and unanimously accepted in place of the present sections:

Article III, Section 7. Any man not a resident of Lowell nor having his place of residence within 10 miles of the city of Lowell, may become a non-resident member if otherwise qualified. Such members shall be elected by the executive committee, but shall have no vote in club meetings. When the non-resident membership between 10 and 150 of the city of Lowell reaches 100, it shall be limited to that number and a waiting list established, but there shall be no limit to the non-resident membership residing beyond 10 miles. This limitation shall not prevent the transfer to non-resident membership of any resident member who may become eligible to non-resident membership.

Article III, Section 10. Non-resident members shall pay no initiation fee and their annual dues shall be divided into two classes. Those residing outside of 10 miles shall pay $10, and for beyond that distance $15, to make such other amendments as it may see fit.

Article IV, Section 2. The annual assessment of resident members shall be divided into two equal payments, payable on the first day of April and October. Non-resident and associate dues shall be paid in full during the month of April and at the time of election, unless such election shall take place after September, when the dues shall be one-half of the full year dues. No member shall be excused from such dues unless such other amendments as it may see fit.

After the meeting, the Vesper Club club, under the leadership of W. T. Hovey, made an interesting musicale which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Minor was a social and athletic event of the club during the past year.

A formal vote was furnished night and the Vesper-Country club gave a fine musicale.

Will Celebrate Incorporation

The St. Anthony of Padova Italian society will celebrate the incorporation of the society at their rooms, 5 Chapel street, on Saturday night. It was planned to hold this reunion on March 22, but as they are to take part in the St. Patrick's day parade, they will march to the hall where a dinner will be served. All friends of the society are invited to be present.

At the last meeting of the society it was voted to have Marshal Vincent Marotta march with the members and Frank George was appointed to ride pommel horse.

Jaynes' Blood Making Pills

These pills contain iron and other ingredients easily absorbed and assimilated into the system. They make rich red blood by creating the very essential ingredients and properties which nature intended should be present in the blood of a healthy person, and the lack of which is the cause of run-down conditions, nervousness, loss of appetite, etc. We recommend them to anemic people or persons with low vitality. Will not upset the stomach and may be taken by young or old with excellent results. Bottle of 100 pills 33c

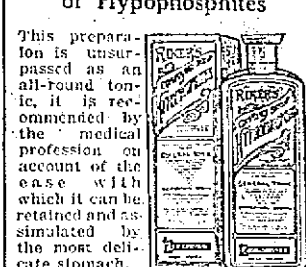

Jaynes' Beef, Iron and Wine

Made from the most approved formula in compliance with the requirements of the National Formulary. This preparation is made from the finest quality extract of beef, citrate of iron and sherry wine, and combines in a pleasant form the valuable nutritive tonic and stimulating properties of ingredients. Prompt results will follow its use in cases of sudden exhaustion arising either from acute or chronic diseases, and it will prove a valuable restorative for all convalescents. In cases of impaired nutrition, impoverishment of the blood and all the varied forms of general debility it is considered by medical experts to be one of the most valuable of all tonics.

Pint bottle 47c
Quart bottle 79c

Riker's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

This preparation is unsurpassed as an all-round tonic. It is recommended by the medical profession on account of the ease with which it can be retained and assimilated. It is the most delicate stomach.

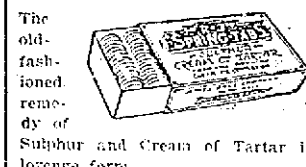

Riker's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites contains the seven well-known hypophosphites as prescribed by a noted physician many years ago. It is a general tonic for the whole system, particularly useful in cases of weak lungs, poor blood, physical or mental weakness, nervous disorders, all wasting diseases and for increasing the appetite.

Per bottle 75c

Jaynes' Dyspepsia Tablets

Only those who have suffered the distressing pain of heartburn or dyspepsia can appreciate in a full measure a remedy that will give instant relief. We have hundreds of testimonials of people who have received prompt relief by taking Jaynes' Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets consist of a combination of simple, well-known ingredients, but so excellently blended in the right proportion that their action is almost miraculous. Jaynes' Dyspepsia Tablets afford instant relief for sour stomach, heartburn, belching, distress after eating, and, in fact, all forms of indigestion. They really taste good and are put up in convenient tin boxes so that they may be carried in your hand bag or your vest pocket. Price per box 40c

Spring-Tabs

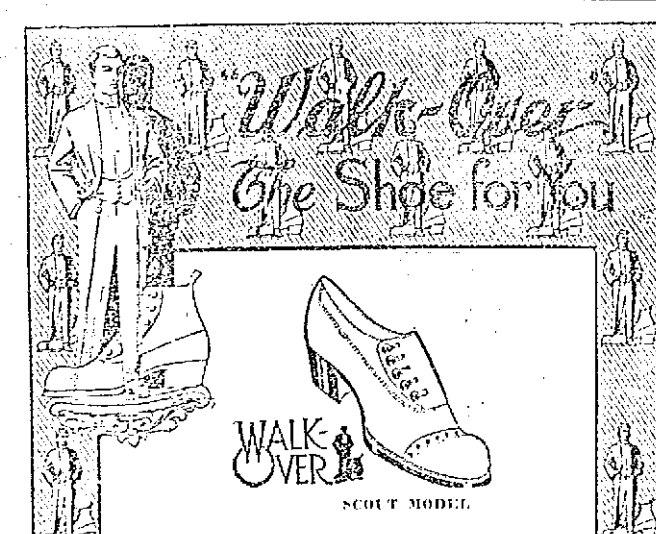

The old-fashioned remedy of Sulphur and Cream of Tartar in lozenge form. For many years the combination of Cream of Tartar and Sulphur has been a favorite remedy in medical practice. Its action is to cleanse the intestinal canal and promote the removal of impurities from the system. R-J SPRING-TABS will be found of great benefit in skin eruptions, boils and pimples, chronic rheumatism and gouty conditions, piles, etc. 15c

ASSAULT CASE TRIED

North Chelmsford* and
Other Cases Heard

This morning's session of police court was mostly taken up with an assault and battery case in which the two principals and the majority of the witnesses were foreigners. The services of an interpreter were needed in order to acquaint the witnesses with the attorneys' queries and this fact caused the case to drag over until the afternoon session.

The warrant charged Abraham James, with assault with a dangerous weapon upon Peter John. The scene of all the trouble was the Silesta mills, North Chelmsford and the alleged assault took place on the night of March 20th. It seems that the defendant has charge of the lighting system in the mills and attends to the turning on or off, as the case might be, of the lights for the particular room in which both of them worked. The complainant appeared in court with an eye that still showed that it had recently been in contact with something substantial. He claimed the defendant had struck him with an iron bar such as is used in the work that each man does. He also asserted that defendant had hit him quite forcibly in the hip and jaw, causing the blood to flow. The next witness for the prosecution followed out his friend's lead, and showed the court where defendant had slightly scratched him with an alleged knife pass. He stated that the knife was over a foot in length. The defendant, from the second witness' testimony, had not relished the idea of his hitting in and had told him not to appear before him as a peacemaker or he might receive just what the other was going to press out to Peter John. As there were about a dozen witnesses it was decided to hold this case over to the afternoon court by mutual consent.

The case of Victor Sousa, charged with assault and battery and assault on an officer, was placed on file by Judge Enright. Joseph O'Connor, Esq. was counsel for Sousa.

Thomas G. Henry was in court on the charge of drunkenness, and his wife took the stand and related to the court just how her husband had been behaving of late. She said that he had not been sober for several weeks and was doing nothing toward supporting her and the three children. In consideration of his family Judge Enright let the defendant down with a suspended sentence to the house of correction upon his solemn promise to provide for his family in the future.

Patrick McMahon, on a similar charge, got a suspended sentence.

The case of Adelard Bergeron, charged with the larceny of five saws and various other tools from Victor Lessard, was brought to a close this morning by the appearance of the defendant's brother from out of town, who paid for all the things that his brother admitted stealing. Bergeron's case was placed on file.

Louis Mulhinch was charged with larceny from the Pilling's shoe shop

BALL IN PRESIDENT'S HONOR

Members of All Political Parties Enjoy Social Event

A ball in honor of the election of President Wilson was held in the town hall at Westford last night and the affair proved one of the most successful of the season in that picturesque town on the hill.

Senator Edward Fisher had charge of the general arrangements. It was intended to give the dance on the evening of March 4, but several of the committee asked for a postponement and it was granted.

Members of all political parties and their wives and daughters attended the dance and the hall was handsomely decorated. In the gathering also were a number of Lowell, Chelmsford, Ayer, Tyngsboro, Concord, Dunstable and Billerica residents.

In carrying out the general arrangements, Senator Fisher was assisted by Oscar R. Spalding, George W. Hayward, William H. H. Burbeck, John Feeney, Alec Fisher, John A. Healey, John M. Fletcher, Albert B. Hall, Michael L. McGlinchey, Robert J. McCarthy, Alex. McDonald, J. Herbert Fletcher, Albert W. Hayward, Edward Riney, Florence T. Sullivan, Fred M. Defoe, John A. Sullivan, David Desmond, Henry A. McDonald, John Feeney, Jr., Frank Haley, Robert J. Hemen and William O. McNeil.

HON. EDWARD FISHER, Senator.

and, upon Deputy Downer's petition, the case was continued until tomorrow. John Ryan and Patrick J. Burke were both fined $5 for their second appearance within a year for drunkenness.

Allies to Accept Peace Offer
VIENNA, March 28.—A despatch from Sofia to the Foliothe Correspondence says that the Balkan allies have agreed to accept the terms offered by the European powers "as a basis for peace negotiations."

The despatch adds that the allies are prepared to cease military operations before an agreement with Turkey has been reached, as they sincerely desire a speedy re-establishment of peace.

THE MILLINERS, 35 JOHN ST.

THE GREAT FLOODS

swept through the city three days ago. The river had begun to recede, reinforcements for the National guard on duty in the streets were entering the suburbs and provisions had advanced to within four miles of the city. The sun rose clear and bright and there were indications that the bitter cold of the past 24 hours was passing. Conditions are still distressing. The electric light and water companies are out of commission and will be for days. One small gas line is serving the city with a pitiful supply of fuel and there is little if any coal available. Provisions are scarce and many families in the flooded sections are without food. Communication between the city and the section known as Putnam, where it is believed the loss of life will be found to be greatest, is still cut off and all reliable business is at a standstill. Fighting has begun and the military have been given orders to shoot down the first thief caught at work.

THOS. WILSON STILL IN READINESS TO LEAVE FOR FLOODED DISTRICT

WASHINGTON, March 28.—When President Wilson was advised today of the progress of Secretary Garrison's special train toward the flood district, he was still holding himself in readiness to go to Dayton at an hour's notice. Secretary Garrison wired him that his presence could do any good. A special train of relief supplies leaves today.

OHIO RIVER IS STILL RISING AND THREATENS FURTHER DAMAGE ALONG ITS BANKS

WHEELING, W. Va., March 28.—The Ohio river here this morning was rising at the rate of two inches an hour. Hundreds of persons driven from their homes by the high water, walked the streets of this city and surrounding towns during the night, unable to secure shelter, but there was little actual suffering as the night was not cold.

BALTIMORE & OHIO BRIDGE OVER MUSKINGUM RIVER HAS BEEN SWEEP AWAY

GRAVELAND, O., March 28.—From this point, within sight of Marietta, O., but separated by the Muskingum river, it can be seen that the Baltimore & Ohio bridge at the mouth of the Muskingum has gone down and the highway bridge over the same stream has been washed away. The great bridge connecting Marietta and Williamson, W. Va., across the Ohio was intact this morning. The country for miles is one vast sea of surging flood.

CENSORSHIP OVER PERSONS ATTEMPTING TO GO TO CITIES IN FLOODED DISTRICT

COLUMBUS, O., March 28.—The military authorities upon the order of Gov. Cox will exercise a censorship over persons attempting to go to Dayton or other cities in the flood district. This was announced at the executive office this morning. Gov. Cox gave out a statement saying that the railroads are using all of their energies in giving first aid to the stricken districts and that he saw no reason for taking over the operation of any of the lines and placing them in charge of the National guard.

Offenders Will Be Jailed

"Any person attempting to go to Dayton without a legitimate excuse will be arrested and put in jail," the governor added. "We are determined that the railroads shall not be burdened with carrying persons who want to go there merely out of morbid curiosity and the military arm of the state will be used in this respect." At the Union station in this city today former Adjutant General Hughes with a detail of men interrogated every person who sought information about means of getting into Dayton and all were required to state what direct personal interest they might have in the Dayton disaster.

DAYTON BEGAN ITS FOURTH DAY OF FLOOD UNDER STRICT MARTIAL LAW

SOUTH DAYTON, O., March 28.—Facing the tremendous task of caring for its ever-increasing army of refugees and recovering its dead, Dayton began its fourth day of flood under strict martial law. With headquarters at Bamberger park, Col. Zimmerman of the Fifth regiment, Ohio National Guard, initiated plans for organization that will protect the city during the

Let Resinol Heal Your Skin Troubles

Thousands of Sufferers Have Found Skin Health at Last

Have you suffered for weeks, months, or even years, with eczema or some other itching, burning, unsightly eruption, that makes daytime a misery and night a torment? Have you tried treatment after treatment in vain, and, perhaps, given up in despair? Thousands whose skins are now clear have gone through this same painful experience. At last they tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. The soothing, healing, antiseptic Resinol medication stopped the itching instantly and soon all trace of the disease was gone.

Why don't you profit by their experience and let Resinol stop your skin troubles, too? Resinol is a physician's prescription which has been used by other doctors for eighteen years in the treatment of all sorts of skin humors, sores, boils, wounds, and piles. You can use Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap freely with the perfect assurance that it contains nothing that could injure the tenderest skin or liberate free radicals, writes Dr. J. B. Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Resinol is sold by every druggist in the United States.

ensuing weeks of reconstruction. Military companies from all parts of the state reached Dayton during the morning and by noon every accessible section was under strict guard. Members of the state board of health, bringing carloads of lime and other disinfectants, were to reach here during the day and begin the work of prevention of disease.

Appeals of 5000

From his headquarters, Col. Zimmerman listened to the appeals of more than 5000 persons before noon. Hundreds of the visitors waited for hours in the long lines of humanity that circled through the park up to military headquarters.

Milk for babies and medicines for invalids were not forgotten by the rescue squads.

It was the aim of the military organization to keep from the danger line all persons seeking friends.

"Be Satisfied You're Not Dead"

"Be satisfied you're not dead yet," was the colonel's disposition of many of the applicants.

Men of the Toledo naval reserve launched their staunch boats in the swift current which cut off the fire area about Third and Jefferson streets, where it was reported there was tremendous loss of life. But the dead were not so sought as the living, except by the dozens of undertakers who fought each other in their competition to obtain corpses which they could dispose of from the main flood to places of debris now high and dry. The problem for providing for refugees was bravely faced by an army of workers, many of whom came from neighboring cities equipped with carloads and trainloads of food.

Safeguard Against Disease

John M. Patterson as aide in charge of the southern military district of Dayton, issued an order today that all householders build cesspools in their backyards. This is the first safeguard against disease. Dayton's sewerage is completely wrecked. Engineers of the state militia refused to venture an estimate of when it might be restored.

Care For Living First

A score of motorboats and the life-saving boats were in the flooded district early and by night it was hoped relief would be extended to all those still alive. No effort was being made to take out any bodies, the first care being for the living. The boats began to return early from the nearer sections, each depositing its load of from 15 to 20 survivors. Most of them were weak from deprivation and suffering so as to be scarcely able to move. By 8 o'clock several hundred had been brought to the National Cash Register Co. hospital on stretchers from the south side of the river.

The food situation was much brighter today. The trucks sent from the cash register factory of which J. M. Patterson is the leader, manned by men with military orders to commandeer potatoes and food from the farmers, brought back a good supply of vegetables and several relief trains reaching the city with provisions. The rescue work also had taken on a semblance of system and all the streets from which the flood had receded were patrolled by militia. The people also were urged to get back to their houses wherever possible.

Beware of Thieves

"Beware of thieves and burglars," said an official bulletin given wide circulation today. "Don't leave your houses without protection. It was thieves who scared you about the natural gas explosion. The natural gas has been turned off and there is no danger."

Without Food or Water

Sixty Sisters of Notre Dame and several hundred persons for whom they had provided refuge were found by the Louisville lifesaving crew today to have been entirely without food or water since Tuesday. The Louisville men also took relief to several hundred families in the low district in the vicinity of Ludlow and Franklin streets. Here the water had reached the roofs of all two story buildings. Only a few of the most desperate cases were brought out, the first move being to leave bread and water in as many places as possible. There had been little hope there would be survivors in this district and the fact that there proved to be few deaths brought hope that the death loss would be lower than was expected.

PUTNAM, OHIO, IN RUINS—RAILROAD STATION COMPLETELY WASHED AWAY

ZANESVILLE, O., March 28.—There is no accurate estimate of the dead but the military think that it will not exceed 50, although the city authorities are inclined to believe it will be beyond this number. The last estimate is based on the fact that many persons in the seventh ward remained in their houses in the belief that they would suffer no more inconvenience than by the water. Many of these houses, however, were swept away after all avenues of escape had been cut off. In Putnam the death list is expected to be much larger as many persons declare that the unfortunate people were washed from roofs and porches and where they had been driven by the rapidly rising water several days ago.

Putnam in Ruins

Down today showed Putnam to be in ruins. Muskingum avenue and Linden avenue appeared to be washed out and where three days ago stood many residences watchers from the highest

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS."

WHAT GLASSES ARE TO WEAK EYES—CASCARETS ARE TO WEAK BOWELS

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles. So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to give weak eyes as to refuse to neglect the bowels. It must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally wish the bowels into activity. But a laxative can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

Nosco Onion Salt

A new table seasoning that gives the flavor of the onion without the odor in the house. A new condiment that is destined to have wide popularity.

With Nosco Onion Salt you can get the most delicate shades of seasoning, from the faintest hint of onion, to the strong, wholesome and appetizing flavor of a dish of steak and onions. If one member of the family doesn't care for onions the others can enjoy this delightful seasoning without giving offense, and each one has as much of the onion as pleases the individual taste.

BUILDINGS UNDERMINED

Many buildings have been undermined and it is feared they will go down. Volunteers are being placed around the most dangerous spots and people are being driven back. Every possible precaution has been taken against fire and the regular department has been reinforced by volunteers who are on duty in every station. Food and medicine are the principal requisites and until these come in the thousands of homeless and shivering people will suffer greatly.

A BIG PIANO SALE

PIANO TRUST CAN'T DOWN THE ROXBURY STORAGE SALESROOMS

The Fight Grows Harder and More Bitter
A Great Chance for the Public to Buy at Cut Prices

A piano sale here is always a sacrifice, always a bargain sale, always a mark-down sale. The very nature of the business here is one of sacrifice. The business here is not conducted like the business of a regular store where they are expected to make a profit on each piano. We don't let any piano loaf around our doors; a sacrifice tag is clipped on which on the face of it reads competition defied and it is sold to the first wise man or woman for the price marked on the tag. Price on all makes alike; we ask no favors, we want none, and we give none. In such like these someone's loss is your gain, the profit is all yours. The finest instruments of the world's best makers are in the sacrifice list.

MANY LIVES SNUFFED OUT WHEN CYCLONE
DEMOLISHED IDLEWILD HALL IN OMAHA

Idlewild Hall, at Twenty-fourth and Lake streets, Omaha, crashed down upon the heads of many occupants when the cyclone rushed over the city. Nearly a score were killed. The picture shows the scene at the ruins the day after the disaster. Searchers dug frantically in the debris to recover the bodies. Many buildings in the path of the storm were smashed in this manner. The men in this hall were horribly crushed.

CATCHING THE WHALE
Members of Cong. Club
Hear Interesting Story

The regular monthly meeting and dinner of the men's club of the First Congregational church was held last night in the church parlor. The speaker of the evening was Rep. Benjamin Sharpe of Nantucket. He was introduced by Rep. Otis Butler. Mr. Sharpe gave a very interesting talk on whaling in the old days. He is not only a doctor of medicine but also a doctor of philosophy. He is a materialist by profession and has much to say on the subject of whaling. He opened his address with a brief and comprehensive history of the early days of whaling and down to the days when Nantucket became the whaling center of the world. In the period from 1820 to 1890, he told of the island at that time its shipping, manufacture of sails and rigging, harpoons and other tackle for securing whales, and of the immense traffic in whale oil which was sent to all parts of the world from this little island. The next took up the life on shipboard in those days, the perils to which the crews were subjected, the discovery of the whaling grounds near the Fiji islands and of the crews which were wrecked on this group of islands and eaten by the natives. He also told of the methods of catching whales, the simplest one being to allow the whale to swallow the hook and anchor and haul it on to sea in the night time as happened to one Nantucket sloop. Another method was that of catching them in immense nets as the inhabitants of Japan and New Zealand still do. The third method was by the harpoon, the method used by the Nantucket islanders. He closed his address with an interesting account of the flag and picturesque metaphors of the Nantucket sailors and of their life on shipboard and at home on the island. High Street Church. The vestry of the High Street Congregational church was the scene last night of the annual banquet of the Sunday school of that church. About 100 teachers, officers and members of the school were present. At 6:30 a fine supper was served under the direction of Mrs. F. R. Woodward, assisted by members of the Ladies Aid society.

CLASS INITIATION HELD
Royal Arcanum Councils
Met Last Night.
Over 100 people attended the union meeting and initiation of the Royal Arcanum Councils of this city and Lawrence which was held in Mathew hall in Union street last evening. Thirty-five candidates were initiated, 15 of whom were from Highland council, under whose auspices the initiation was held. There were eight from Industry council, four from Lowell council, 10 from Lawrence degree team performed the initiation, four from Lawrence council and two from Rechabbeaux council.
Highland council took the prize for enrolling the largest number and Industry council took second place.
The master of the evening was A. G. Walsh, and among the speakers were Grand Regent James F. Wise of Boston, and Grand Orator E. Edgar Searing of Stockbridge. Both talked along congratulatory lines and were well pleased with the evening's program. The large class was initiated by the degree staff of Lowell council, and the manner in which the work was conducted was very interesting. A feature of the evening's excellent entertainment was selections by the Lowell Council quartet. There was a large delegation from Lawrence.
MATRIMONIAL
The marriage of Mr. Thomas C. Sullivan and Miss Katherine Donovan was solemnized Wednesday evening at St. Columba's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. John Deagan, pastor. The best man was Dr. William Sullivan of Manchester, N. H., while the bride was Miss Helen Donovan. A dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, 10 Varnum avenue, followed by a reception. The young couple will make their home in Varnum avenue.
BURKE-WELCH
The marriage of Mr. James Burke and Miss Annie M. Welch took place at the Immaculate Conception rectory Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Fr. Tighe officiated. Mr. William Maher, a cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man and the bridesmaid was Miss Margaret O'Leary, a cousin of the bride. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, a Chestnut street. Mr. and Mrs. Burke left at 7:30 for New York and they will be at home to their friends after May 1st.

THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Much Opposition to Bill Giving the Board Full Authority to Enforce Its Orders

At the state house, yesterday, much opposition was expressed to the bill to give the state board of health full authority and police powers to enforce its orders, especially those relating to tuberculosis, which came before the committee on public health.

The opponents, who represented the Boston Society for the Relief of Tuberculosis and the National League for Medical Freedom, argued that the bill is impracticable on account of the immense appropriation it carries and unwise in that it substitutes mandatory power for the present concurrent authority of the state board of health over the local and city boards.

Dr. Charles F. Putnam said the most effective results in the fight against tuberculosis may be gained by training the local bodies to enter the fight. He feared the bill would discourage the local authorities. Seymour H. Stone, secretary of the society, also opposed the bill, because of the great expense.

Albert S. Apsey argued for the National League of Medical Science that the bill would give the state board of health more power than has ever been conferred on any board or commission in the United States.

To Aid Foreigners

Gov. Foss yesterday sent to the legislature a message endorsing the recommendations of the free public library commission relating to literacy work for foreigners. "The assimilation of our foreign population," he said, "cannot proceed effectively unless they are brought into sympathy with and given an understanding of the aims and purposes of our democracy."

"For the protection of society and particularly for the protection of our laboring population, including the foreign-born, we must not omit any reasonable measure for the proper education and training of the foreigner who makes his home in Massachusetts."

"I need not dwell upon the obvious gravity of the situation, nor do I consider the present measure in itself sufficient to meet all the requirements of the situation; but I earnestly request of the legislature that it accord the Free Public Library the very moderate extension which it now seeks."

Liquor Bills Considered

Three liquor bills were before the committee on legal affairs yesterday. John L. Donovan's bill for an unlimited number of licenses was opposed by Leon S. Baldwin of the Anti-Saloon League.

Representative John F. McCarthy's bill, which provides for the sale of liquor in public dining rooms between midnight and 4 a. m. on special holidays, particularly New Year's, was also opposed by Mr. Baldwin, who considered the 12 o'clock privilege now granted to hotels adequate.

Corporation Counsel Corbett opposed the bill of Charles S. Lawler, which provides that the total number of licenses in Boston shall be issued before Sept. 1 in each year, if there are applications for them. Corporation Counsel Corbett argued that the licensing board ought to have some latitude in the matter.

Killed Pension Bill

The house yesterday killed the Boston teachers' pension bill, providing that the tax levied for teachers' pensions in Boston should be reduced from 7 cents per $1000 of valuation to 6 cents and that the maximum pension should be $1000 instead of $800.

The house also rejected the bill to increase the salary of the judge of probate in Plymouth county after a spirited debate.

The Washburn Bill

Without a recorded dissent, the committee on railroads reported the Washburn bill, creating a new commission to be known as "the public transportation commission." By increasing the membership of the present railroad commission from three to five and giving the new board supervision over the telephone and telegraph business as well as over railroads and railways.

No Check on Moving

The house postponed for a year the proposal requiring persons moving their furniture to notify public officials. A new draft of the bill requiring one day of rest in seven to employees will be brought in and consideration was postponed for a week.

This house passed to be engrossed a bill requiring the use of sanitary closets in cleaning printing presses, but refused to attach a penalty of $50.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House

There remain only four more performances of "Zaza" to be given by the Loperano Players at the Opera House and next week this company will be given in a production of James H. Hackett's powerful play, "The Confession." This play was first produced with success at the Bijou theatre, New York city and later toured the country, appearing at the Opera House early last fall for one performance.

BOSTON OPERA STARS COMING

An appearance here at the Opera House of Miss Evelyn Scotney, Miss Gauthier, Miss Florence de Courcy and other stars of the Boston Opera Company is scheduled for an early date. The program will consist of condensed versions of "Faust" and "Mertha," the latter in English, the third act from "Hippolyte" and the rendition of the great sextet from "Lucia de Lammermoor."

THE COUNTRY BOY

In "The Country Boy," which the Henry B. Harris estate brings to the Opera House, April 15, the author has embodied all the attributes of perfect comedy. The humor is clean and sparkling and pervades every act; the heart interest is well developed, and the plot is a delineation of a character well known in every day life. A young man with the genius of his years sets out to show the folks back home that he is capable of the big things he has dreamed about, and which he thinks are incapable of attainment anywhere but in the great metropolis. The city life puts him through the third degree, and he finally gives up in despair and goes back home where he makes the names for himself that he believed he could only make in the great city, and he wins back the love of the sweetheart of his childhood, whom he had lost through his behavior in New York city.

Keltha's

New and startling effects in the Thomas A. Edison talking motion pictures will be shown at the Keltha theatre, next week when "The Temptation of Faust" is shown. With this will be two other subjects. This week's bill, headed by the first talking motion picture bearing Thomas Edison's name, ever shown, locally, is proving a very big drawing card, despite the inclemency of the weather. "Train 44," one of the best of the mechanically constructed mechanisms, holds a high place in the esteem of vaudeville goers, and Williams, Thompson and Copeland, in "The Burglars' Union," have a sterling farce comedy. John Greger, the man with the violin, is another siren pure winner for pleasing, and Schneider and Richards, producing "Bits of Nonsense," are great favorites. The Three Stewart Sisters and their acrobats, dancers, trapeze artists, and other performers, and Pearl Dawson, ingenue, are the other good things on this bill. Good seats may be obtained in advance. The box office number is 100. The Saturday matinee will start at 2 o'clock after the passage of the parade through the square.

The Playhouse

Two performances today and two tomorrow, are the remaining opportunities of seeing the Irish drama, "The Minister of Clare." If you have not witnessed it don't fail to visit the theatre this week. The play is a comedy. J. Anthony Synthe is seen in one of his most charming characters, while the remaining members of the company are also seen to special advantage. The play is very cleverly staged. A matinee of "The Minister of Clare" will be given at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon and considering the Irish demonstration, should be the destination of many, for it is sure to please. Next week the attraction will be "The Turning Point," a highly dramatic offering. Tickets for the performances this week are on sale at the box office, telephone 511.

Danger of Catarrh

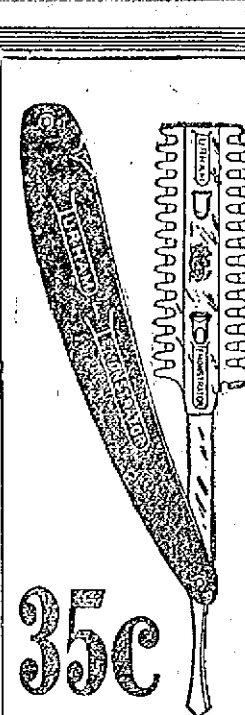

Unless Properly Treated With HYOMEL, the Disease Becomes Serious

Catarrhal troubles are far more dangerous than they seem at first thought. If you have catarrh, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane and weakened tissues which afford an ideal lodgment and culture medium for disease germs, especially those of consumption.

You should get cured as quickly as possible before any dangerous germs that you may breathe lodge on the diseased tissue and work destruction in the throat and lungs. The easiest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by the direct method, breathing HYOMEL. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed in through the HYOMEL Inhaler, directly following and destroying all diseased germs that may have been inhaled, and healing and vitalizing the tissues of the throat, nose and lungs so as to render catarrh and all other germ infections no longer possible.

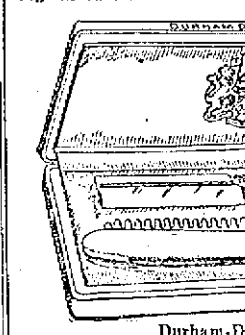

The unusual way in which HYOMEL is sold by druggists is the best evidence of confidence in the treatment and should dispel all doubts as to its curative properties. They are anxious to refund the purchase price to anyone who HYOMEL fails to benefit so you do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues. A complete outfit costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

"BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER"

Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Thinness of the blood, or anemia, is common in young folks as well as old. Especially is it the case with those who work in ill-ventilated factories—or those who are shut up indoors in winter time with a coal stove burning up the oxygen or emitting carbonic (oxide) gas. This blood, or blood which lacks the red blood corpuscles, in anemic people may have been caused by lack of good fresh air breathed into lungs, or by poor digestion or dyspepsia. Sometimes people suffer intense pain over the heart which is not heart disease at all, but caused by indigestion. Whatever the cause, there's just one remedy that you can turn to—knowing that it has given satisfaction for over 45 years.

is a blood cleanser and alternative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart—nerves—brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and vigorous instead of tired, weak and faint. Nowadays you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Tablets, as well as the liquid form from medicine dealers, or tablets by mail, prepaid in $1 or 50c size. Address R. V. Pierce, M. GOULD QUILTS AMERICA

Son of Railroad Magnate Goes to France

NEW YORK, March 28.—Frank J. Gould sailed for Paris yesterday, probably not to return to America. He said he was disgusted with the way the United States government interfered with business in this country, and that he preferred to live in France.

Sailing with him were his wife and the three Misses Kelly, her sisters.

In continuing his grievance against things American, Mr. Gould pointed out that racing had practically been abolished here, while it flourished like a green bay tree in the fair land of France. In that country, he said, the government does all it can to aid business men and farmers, and attracted the attention of the reporters to the green ribbon he wore in his buttonhole.

This, Mr. Gould explained, was the ribbon of the order Merite Agricole, conferred upon him by the French minister of agriculture for the cultivation of his farm near Paris, on which his racing horses are kept. When he spoke of the artoches grown on that French farm, the young millionaire became almost enthusiastic in his description.

Mrs. Gould and her three sisters joined in the enthusiasm, and lost the pessimistic air they were while Mr. Gould was discussing the defects in the government of his own country.

"Long ago," said Mr. Gould, "I took up my residence in France, although my domicile is in the United States." The Gould stables near Paris are estimated to have cost $250,000, and when the owner came here in August, 1911, he said that he had won $75,000 in races this season. On Christmas the same year he presented his wife, who was Edith Kelly, a show girl, before he married her in Scotland in 1910, a pearl necklace worth $500,000, poodle.

which consisted of two strands of perfectly graduated pearls.

Another passenger on the Franco was Mrs. D. J. Wood, who arrived from Nice some weeks ago with a pet poodle, Arlene, which was looked after by a chef and a maid and had a cabin staff. Mrs. Wood said that the main reason in going back to France so soon was that she could have Arlene near her, as she is very temperamental and the variable climate of New York does not suit the delicate aristocratic poodle.

CLEANS THE HAIR AND MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

IN A FEW MOMENTS YOUR HAIR LOOKS SOFT FLUFFY, LUSTROUS AND ABUNDANT—NO FALLING HAIR OR DANDRUFF.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the beauty and slimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair and lots of it, if you just get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Waters Diminished Today
SPRINGFIELD, March 28.—The Connecticut river, which yesterday had almost reached its crest and was endangering the lowlands surrounding this city, fell several inches during the night. Fears that had been entertained regarding the safety of the bridge near this city were allayed this morning when the waters began to diminish.

Vogue of Paper Napery
The vogue of paper napery has been of very gradual growth mainly because of its use in cheap restaurants, but conditions which modern ways of living have imposed upon the housewife have given paper napery a steadily increasing vogue. Both the woman who cannot be as fastidious about her table appointments as she would like to be and the woman who can are finding more and more use for these paper substitutes that we have borrowed from our friends the Japanese.

Even in places where daily living continues on its usual lines these napkins are gradually making their way. They are beginning to be much used for breakfast, especially in summer, to save the napery from hot stains and with their gay and novel looks are in demand for children's parties. The napkins are made in three sizes, in plain white and with borders of various colors, and they may be bought at retail from 10 to 50 cents a hundred, according to the size and quality.

Their use is not made of cheap paper, but is smooth and fairly white and of a very soft texture in damask patterns. A bungalow table draped with it is dainty and attractive. The most usual size is about 1 to 5 feet and it costs 15 cents about the average for the laundering of a linen cloth of the same size.

Paper towels are also used in many public schools and sanitary handkerchiefs, for use and not at all ornamental, have been very successful.

HOLD POSITIONS LONGEST

Veteran Pitchers Are in Majority

Of the players now in the big league baseball arena more veterans are to be found among the pitchers than in any other position. The pitcher, though a good deal harder than the occupant of any other position, but he doesn't play for glory, and besides, there are more of him. It isn't surprising that there are more veteran pitchers than anything else, considering that each club carries at least half a dozen pitchers.

It was a reminder, Cy Young, who became a veteran of veterans, who, though old timers as Powell, Mathewson, Mott and Frank are still in the game. Nor are White, Bender, Moore, Hughes and White in the spring chicken class. Behind the bat no such list of veterans can be found doing duty. Hugh Kling, Bresnahan and Tamm have been at it a good while. The backstop position has produced several veterans who were veterans indeed, such as Mathewson, Farrell, Criger, Sullivan, and in the old days Flint.

If there are days when this season he will be the oldest man at the position. Mott, Lathers, Daubert, Hobbitt, Miller, Southeby, Sater, Chase, Barton, Gault, Melanes, J. Collins and Slovic are all comparative youngsters. Second base, too, is held down mostly by young players. Doyle, Cutshaw, Swenson, Knabe, Butler, Yerkes, Ruth, Pratt, E. Collins and Laporte cannot be called old timers. Infielders and batters are the veterans of the lot. At short the veterans are more prominent. Heine and House Wagner, Tabor, Wallace, McBride, Bridwell, McMillan and Doolan are well seasoned.

Barry and Bush are not exactly new-comers, just between and between. Fletcher, Fisher, Hauser, Olson and Weaver represent the younger element. Turner is a player of long service at third, albeit most of his time has been put in at short and byrne, Devlin and Loban have been on hand some time. Herzog hasn't played long enough to be called an old timer, neither have Baker, Gardner, Mowrey or Moriarty. Smith, Phelan, Austin, Foster, Dolan, Zimmerman, Mikkiff and Foster. Dolan, Zimmerman, Mikkiff and Foster have most of their career ahead of them.

When Fred Clarke quit active playing the ranks of the veteran outfielders was thinned out. Leach is still left in the veteran class, as are Crawford and Sheppard, Murray, Titus, S. Mace, Mitchell, McIntyre, Schulte, Wilson, D. Murphy and Doolan have been around a considerable length of years. As for Snodgrass, Devore, L. Mayne, Oakes, Ellis, Evans, Carey, Wheat, Moran, Northern, Campbell, Jackson, Paskert, Marsans, Becker, Miller, O'Brien, Strunk, Mueller, Shanks, Ryan, Graney, Birmingham, Cree, Daniels, Speaker, Lewis, Hooper, Cobb and several others none dates back so far that he oughtn't to have a goodly part of his career ahead of him.

THE ENGLISH STROKE

Being Used by College Crews

The American stroke used today by many college crews is nothing more than the English stroke, adapted by men like Courtney and Rice to the conditions prevailing here, says an eastern rowing authority. The English stroke of some years ago, with its long back swing, was tried here by Lehigh men at Harvard and pretty nearly ruined the crew. The men were not able to stand the terrific strain on the stomach muscles, as the English rowers, who have brought up in that style of rowing from schoolboys, and they failed to do their best with it. Rice and Courtney both preferred the shorter swing and the longer back drive as learned in their days of swimming.

A well known coach said recently there was no reason why the professional sculler should not adopt the best stroke. In this racing day he was confronted with the proposition of winning in order to get his living. He went into the game in earnest and used his best efforts in trying to produce a stroke which took as little as possible out of him to produce the best results. His bread depended upon it, and when he reached the front it was because he rowed best.

The professional today teaches the college men the stroke, which he has worked out in years of hard practice, and he knows how to take advantage of every opportunity. He was not guessing, he knew. Further than this he is still learning and never neglects a chance to pick up anything shown by another coach if it appeals to him as a gain.

Much has been written about the "stroke" of Oxford and Cambridge coaches at the start of the season and how the men are worked and taught watermanship on fixed seats before they get the slide, and this is given as the reason for the alleged better form of the English crews in a race. England does not have a monopoly in this respect, for there are college crews in this country, and good ones, too, that begin on the fixed seats, but on rowing machines. Candidates get a couple of weeks on the machines until their blade work is right, and they get into something like a swing. Then the sliding seats are given them, and they have to pull against light weights until their form approaches that which is sought for, and after that the weights are increased until they go out on the water when it is just about what the men would get in the river. There is no haphazard work in this. It is all calculated out beforehand, and the men get into the boats all they have to do is to learn to balance, and then they are gradually rounded into shape. Outside of the greater length of time on the fixed seats there is really little difference between the training here and in England.

THOSE SCHOOL STEPS

Com. Cummings Will Not Pay for Them

Dennis Harrington, janitor of the Moody school, was a caller at Commissioner Cummings' office this forenoon and he had something to say about the steps leading from the street to the school. The steps in question are of concrete and were built by the park commission about two years ago. The steps have not yet been paid for. Mr. Whitte, who was superintendent of parks at the time, said that Principal Greene of the Moody school told him to put in the steps and Mr. Whitte said he supposed that the steps were to be paid for out of the receipts from entertainments that were being held for the purpose of beautifying the school grounds. Mr. Greene says that he did not have any such understanding with Mr. Whitte and in conversation with Commissioner Cummings today, Janitor Harrington said: "It is only a question of veracity between the two men. Mr. Greene and Mr. Whitte. 'I know that your department cannot be made to pay for the steps,' said Mr. Harrington to Mr. Cummings, 'but your department has reaped the benefit of the new steps.' Asked to explain how the buildings department had profited by the new steps, Mr. Harrington said that if the old steps had been allowed to remain the buildings department would have been called upon to repair them every year, or perhaps twice a year, and that the department had profited because of not having to make the repairs.

Commissioner Cummings admitted that he could not quite grasp the philosophy of Mr. Harrington's remarks and just about that time City Solicitor Hennessy put in an appearance and, taking part in the discussion, stated that Commissioner Cummings could not pay for the steps if he wanted to. The steps were built during a previous year and could not be paid for out of this year's appropriations. Mr. Hennessy said that in order for Commissioner Cummings to pay the bill it would be necessary for him to get a special appropriation for that purpose. It looks as if the park department would have to foot the bill.

Hello Girls Consider Strike
BOSTON, March 28.—A large number of telephone girls, members of the recently formed operators' union, met in secret session today to consider the advisability of calling a strike to enforce the demands they have made upon the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. relative to wages and working rules.

From officials of the company the operators have learned that the company is not disposed to make further concessions after recently increasing their wages and establishing benefits for them. In order that all operators may have an opportunity to participate in the conference other meetings were arranged for the evening.

The Kitchen Held Charms for the Duke

RESULT OF INQUEST

On Mullen Boy's Death
Exonerates Chauffeur

The finding on the inquest in the death of nine-year-old Edward F. Mullen, who was run down by the automobile belonging to Thomas Nesmith and operated by Alexander F. Edwards on March 12, was submitted by Judge Pickman late yesterday afternoon. The finding completely clears Edwards of criminal negligence. The finding is rather a lengthy one and deals in the first part almost wholly with the technical points of the case. The latter part of Judge Pickman's finding runs as follows: "Upon the consideration of all of the testimony, I find that the automobile turned to the left of the street to run by a wagon and possibly to avoid running into the boys in the street who were running behind the wagon, or from the wagon to the sidewalk on the southerly side of the street. "I find that the automobile was running at a moderate speed when it turned to the left of the centre of the street before it struck the boy. Its speed having been checked after making the turn. "I find that the time was very brief between the turning of the automobile and the striking of the boy. Negligence is chargeable to the chauffeur by reason of his failure to give a warning signal of some kind when he made the turn to the left, and as he was running forward. "Under the decisions of this commonwealth to constitute manslaughter the killing of a person must have been the consequence of wanton or reckless conduct, i. e., if one is grossly and wantonly reckless in exposing others to danger, it holds him to have intended the natural consequence of his act and treats him as guilty of a wilful and intentional wrong. "I do not find that such wanton conduct and gross negligence on the part of the chauffeur, Alexander F. Edwards, as to make him guilty of manslaughter. "I find that on Wednesday, the twelfth day of March current, a lad named Edward F. Mullen, while running from the sidewalk on the southerly side of East Merrimack street across said street, in the city of Lowell was run into by an automobile that was being driven by one Alexander F. Edwards, the chauffeur in the employ of Mr. Thomas Nesmith of Tewksbury, in said county, and thereby sustained injuries that caused his death. "I find that the accident that caused the death was not due to the criminal negligence of said Edwards.

CARPET WEAVER'S UNION

Held Annual Entertainment and Banquet

AT ODD FELLOWS TEMPLE WITH 300 PRESENT

Very Enjoyable Occasion For Members—Dinner Hearty Delivered Address

The Brussels and Wilton carpet weavers' union of Lowell held their first annual entertainment and banquet last night at Odd Fellows hall, on Middlesex street. Nearly three hundred members of the local union attended the function.

The banquet was served promptly at 8 o'clock with Charles H. Slawey, the chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, in the role of toastmaster.

Mayor O'Donnell gave a fitting extemporaneous response to "The City of Lowell" and dwelt, for the most part, upon the coming observation of "Lowell Day." He paid a very fine compliment to the Lowell weavers and stated that one of the finest assets that Lowell industries possessed was the handiwork of the men who manufactured the rugs and carpets for which our city is noted. He asked the co-operation of each one present to make Lowell the biggest and best manufacturing city in New England.

Denies Healy, president of the Amalgamated Leathers Workers of America, spoke on "Trades Unionism." He strongly urged the local branch to join the American Federation of Labor just as soon as it appeared feasible to the members and cited the benefits which arise from affiliation with the central body. His speech last night was a dissertation on the helpfulness of organized labor and his remarks were highly appreciated by all present.

During the evening a very enjoyable musical and literary entertainment was rendered for the feasters. Vocal selections by Miss Madeline Ireland, Messrs. Doyle and McCaffrey, John S. Moir and James E. Donnelly were all pleasing features of a well spent evening while the readings of Walter Poye proved a distinct hit.

The committee, to which all the credit for the successful evening's enjoyment was due, was composed of Chas. H. Slawey, chairman; John Thomas, Daniel Roberts, John Brum, Edward Bradley, Walter Ayotte, Martin Crowe, John Moller, Thomas Riley, Thomas Reynolds, William Rowe, and James McElroy, William Carville, was secretary and Thomas H. Smith, treasurer.

Thrown From Pony on Madrid Polo Field

MADRID, March 28.—King Alfonso of Spain, while playing polo, fell some what heavily from his pony. No bones were broken, but it was feared that the king might have been injured internally.

The accident occurred just as the game began. The king vaulted across the field to reach his position. While doing so his pony fell and his Majesty was caught with one leg under the animal.

He was able to extricate himself without help and immediately lighted a cigaret. He suffered, however, from some severe bruises.

Whist and Dance

A whist and dancing party was conducted at the Highland club last night for the benefit of St. Margaret's church, and the affair was attended by over 300 people, which is a flattering compliment to the organizers. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all and suitable prizes were awarded the winners at whist.

The general committee included the following: David Shanahan, George L. Green, William Fitchell, Michael Conolly, John Barrett, Daniel Riley, Jas. Morrison, Mrs. George M. Harrigan, Mrs. Peter Conaton, Mrs. P. Gilbride, Mrs. P. Ryan, Mrs. Henry Ruels, Mrs. George Conway, Mrs. D. Shanahan, Mrs. Frank Campbell, Miss Alice Owens, Mrs. E. F. Brady.

On the refreshments committee were:

Mrs. John M. Murphy, Mrs. James Donovan, Mrs. James Morrison, Mrs. William Daley, Mrs. John Donnelly, Mrs. Edwards Cheney, Mrs. James Coughlin.

Winners of the whist prizes were:

Gentlemen, Walter Hickey, first; Henry Ruels, second; George Shanahan, third; John Jones, fourth. Ladies, Mrs. Margaret Swift, first; Miss Libian Walsh, second; Miss Bessie Coughlin, third; Mrs. Charles Crevier, fourth.

REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE

No Longer Endorses Mr. Westall for County Commissioner—Members Asleep

The candidacy of William L. Westall for the office of county commissioner is no longer backed up by the republican city committee. That august body gave Mr. Westall the nod about two weeks ago and last night they took it away from him. The committee decided that in the case of a large tally it is unwise to have a favorite child.

Last night's meeting was well attended, and there were some who thought that Mr. Westall was the right man to represent this section of Merrimack county as commissioner. There were others who spoke right up in meeting and said they didn't care a pin who was made commissioner. They allowed it was entirely beyond the province of the committee to single out any one man and "plug" him along and there are other candidates in the field. Just for that little bit of sentiment the committee took away from Mr. Westall the endorsement given him on a silver platter, so to speak, two weeks ago.

Chairman William L. Robertson

Important to All Women

Readers of This Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes anyone so.

But thousands of irritable, nervous, tired and broken-down women have restored their health and strength by the use of Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

Swamp-Root brings new life and activity to the kidneys, the cause of such troubles.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, may address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and receive sample bottle free by mail. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

Headache?—It's Your Liver

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic is Needed

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver or bowels, will never have headache.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Dr. Edwards' calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

Mr. Qua moved that a resolution be sent to the same man, that it is the sense of the committee that it is not the proper function of the committee to endorse any republican candidate in particular for any office, before the primary elections. Passed.

ONE KILLED BY GALE

Rivers Rise as Deluge Sweeps N. E.

BOSTON, March 28.—Greater Boston, in common with the rest of New England, felt the fury yesterday of the great storm which has laid the middle west in devastation. Struck by the storm's tail, the city and its suburbs suffered serious damage and one life was lost.

The conditions were especially bad along the Cape, and all the telegraphic communication was cut off during the afternoon. Wires were down in many other sections of New England, and reports were constantly being received in Boston of appalling floods in the Connecticut valley.

Transportation facilities were badly crippled. Many delays were occasioned by trains leaving the North and South stations, while trains due from the west and the north were held up in New England for several hours late.

Throughout the day the city was deluged by heavy rains, more than an inch falling according to the weather bureau. Then, a westerly wind, ever increasing in velocity, was blowing 50 miles an hour by 5 o'clock last night and sweeping before it walls, telegraph poles and chimneys.

In South Boston the fury of the blasts dislodged the chimney on the house at 74 Fourth street which, toppling over into the yard in the rear, struck Benjamin Chestnut, a five-year-old boy, who was at play. The lad was taken to the city hospital suffering from a fractured skull and died at the institution late last night.

Scenes of Disaster

Many other disasters were reported from the suburbs and the city proper did not escape. A dividing wall in the rear of the building at 23 Myrtle street collapsed about 8 o'clock last night and with a noise that could be heard for several blocks, toppled over into the property at 13 and 15 Pineknoll street, occupied by Dr. G. W. Morse as the Codman hospital.

Part of the debris crashed through the window of a dining room in the hospital where Mrs. M. E. Perry, with her daughter, Irene Perry, and Joseph Hanley were at dinner. They narrowly escaped being struck by some of the pieces of brick and mortar which were hurled through the windows. Although there were a number of patients in the hospital at the time, they were soon quieted by the intercess and little disturbance was caused in the wards.

It is believed that the foundation of the wall had been weakened by the heavy rains and that the gale blew it over. The Myrtle street property is owned by Martin Lomasney.

The rain was intermittent. It was particularly heavy between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, there being almost half an inch of precipitation within that time.

OPENS WAR ON SHERIFF

Haines Attacks Moulton of Cumberland

PORTLAND, Me., March 28.—Gov. William T. Haines, astounded the politicians even of his own party yesterday by his message to the legislature asking that body to impeach Sheriff Lewis W. Moulton of Cumberland county for failure to enforce the prohibitory law and expressing his intention to take similar action against the sheriffs of four other counties.

By this move the governor has excited not only the democratic office holders in Cumberland, Androscoggin and Knox counties, but has also seriously disturbed the contentment of the republicans in Penobscot county, who after four lean years have just recovered possession of county offices.

Unhappily as Gov. Haines declared that there are five counties in which the prohibitory law is being nullified in the courts, and that the violations in Cumberland county are the most "flagrant," it is assumed that he will ask the legislature to inquire into conditions in four other counties after that body finishes the inquiry with respect to Sheriff Moulton.

The governor has, in the opinion of politicians, reopened the issue of prohibition and started a movement for enforcement which is likely to reach every part of the state.

According to the provisions of the resolve which passed the senate yesterday in response to the message of the governor, Sheriff Moulton is ordered to appear before the legislature on April 1 to answer specific charges of malfeasance in office.

BACHELOR CLUB

Will Entertain in Associate Hall This Evening—"A Night at the Cabaret" Will Be Presented

The minstrel event of the season, the entertainment that everyone in this city who cares to forget temporarily life's many burdens through the enjoyment of an evening's measure of good, wholesome entertainment interspersed with a goodly amount of full and hearty laughs, awaits for, will be staged tonight in Associate hall, when the 20th Century Bachelor club, the association largely responsible for continued devotion to the club's and its rounds here and that has given this form of entertainment a prominent place in the entertainments in this city, will present its annual musical comedy.

"A Night at the Cabaret" is the name of the production that has been mixed by the members for the benefit of the pleasure-making local people and that there will be a sufficient amount to give a long healthy drink of pure enjoyment, with a goodly quantity left for a good-sized classer is the consensus of opinion of the members, enough to be presented at a rehearsal. The stage setting of tonight's show will typify a scene at a Cabaret.

A feature that will prove one of the real treats of the evening will be the playing of the new Bachelor club march by the orchestra of 10 pieces, from an elevated platform behind the curtain, the position the orchestra will occupy during the evening. This march was composed by Richard J. Newman, the musical director of the troupe, and will be played publicly for the first time.

All the soloists who have in the past contributed the leading classical, sentimental and ragtime melodies at the club's "annual" will be present to add further luster to the club's evening of successes. The show will be preceded by dancing. Tickets will be on sale at the box office early this evening.

CHECKS

FOR SMART DRESSERS

There's a strong tendency for checks this season, among the younger men.

If you're of average height and not inclined to stoutness, a check is becoming—especially these shepherd checks.

BUT—If you go in for checks, be particular about the tailoring. A poorly tailored check suit is a joke.

It's much the same as a bank check—it's what's behind it that makes it good.

So, we're very careful what we offer you. Ours are tailored by Stein-Bloch and other good clothes makers, and you can buy them without risk.

We show a window full this week—in worsteds and velour cassimeres, in gray, blue and brown colorings—in several smart models, including the norfolk.

Prices are $15, $17.50, $20 up to $27.50.

Live Bits of Sport

Frank Courtney, the Haverhill outfielder, is coaching the Haverhill high school baseball team. He had them out for their first practice Tuesday. Courtney is a trifle overweight, but should have this on before the New England league season opens as he will be kept on the jump by the school boys.

Geo. Tyler, the Braves' southpaw, strained his arm in the game with Atlanta last Tuesday. Tyler started in to pitch, but received a severe wrench while trying to get over a fast one. If this slapper is permanently crippled Manager Stallings will be in a bad way for pitchers. Tyler is booked to hold off all the left handed hitting clubs on the National circuit.

Hugh Duffy is worrying about his new grand stand which is coming along very slowly in the Maine town. The most recent New England league magnate is also engaged very busily in collecting his club for the opening of the season and is probably the busiest man around the circuit these days. Manchester is still making overtures to Duffy and is ready to slip into the breach at a moment's notice if affairs in Portland do not prove conducive to the owner of last year's Fall River franchise.

Couch Quimby of the Yale baseball team has certainly got the right idea when it comes to discipline. It makes no difference to him whether a player is first or last string. If he doesn't obey the rules laid down by the coach, out he goes. Quimby sent home four of his best men yesterday for discipline and he will follow out this idea if he has to "own" every man on the squad. The players, although not especially pleased at first, will in the end respect their coach all the more for his firm stance. A crowd of college athletes think that these tough outfielders and it is "goodbye, coach."

Sherrwood Magee, brother of the Lowell outfielder and one of the fastest out gardeners in the National league, is at present 20 pounds overweight. Manager Dunn of the Phillies is rather elated over the fact and is quoted as saying that he hopes his slugger outfielder will hit Philadelphia without taking off an ounce. Manager Dunn contends, and with reason, that the Phillies have been too fine at the start of each National league season and have lost their needed ginger and snap when the end of the season was reached. This is a fault that several of the big league teams have had every year.

The fact that left handed pitchers are unable to use a spitball as a steady stock in trade has always been a mystery to baseball managers and probably always will be. It is an acknowledged fact, however, that although a man throwing a ball with his right hand finds no difficulty in keeping his delivery with in condition the left hander who tries this feat finds himself in a bad way before very long. Pitchers of Plank's and George's ability will never take a chance with the moist sphere although Plank can throw as nice a breaking splitter as has yet been produced. Lefty Russell, for whom it is alleged that Connie Mack paid over the sum of $12,000, went bad and was relegated to the minors for no other reason than that his pitching arm would not support his use of the spit ball. Wilson, of the Cleveland team, is another club artist who controls a swift breaking splitter, but who also refuses to use it except in a pinch. He asserts that if he continued to pitch this ball he would soon ruin his arm for pitching purposes.

The Wall Street element control baseball as well as the money market in New York. A newspaper vote was taken to see at what hour the majority of the fans desired to have the game of the Giants commence with the result that the overwhelming majority voted for an opening at 3.30 o'clock all the year around. In respect to the money kings, however, there was nothing more than a compromise effected. The games, which formerly began at 4 o'clock, will henceforth open at 4.15. It is expected that the Highlanders will also make this time schedule their own.

According to his own statements Billy McCarthy, Luther McCarthy's manager, has his protegee pretty well matched up for the next few months. McCarthy has no less than five bunts looked up for Al Palzer's conqueror. If McCarthy gets up to these lights the way he did to the proposed Wells-McCarthy contest the boys in the ticket office won't ever open their wickets. Luther must feel some vexed to think that he let that snug little purse get away from him. His new fight schedule includes bouts with Tommy Burns, June 10 at San Francisco; Jim Flynn, April 15 at Philadelphia; Frank Moran, April 23 at Pittsburgh; May 24th with Gunboat Smith at Los Angeles and July 14th McCarthy will fight Jesse Willard at one of the big California clubs. McCarthy figures that the five fights will net somewhere in the neighborhood of $50,000. They say that McCarthy's manager is very apt at figures.

Dr. Franklin T. Conklin, the chairman of the legislative committee of the Massachusetts Federation of Churches, states that the organization which he represents is opposed to the proposed new boxing bill. On the ground that the sport will be commercialized if it gets by our law makers. As a sport the majority of the clergy who are opposing the bill seem to favor boxing, but as a money-maker for the state they are absolutely lined up against the measure. Whether the pressure that the gentlemen of the cloth will bring to bear upon the members of this year's legislature will prove sufficient to kill the bill or not is at present an open question and one which will remain undecided for some little time to come.

Hugh Duffy, the Portland magnate, made a trip down to see Willie Jones, the old Boston National outfielder, yesterday. Duffy has said all along that he did not think that the oldtimer makes sense to think this only a stall to keep the other managers away from Jones. The little Maine outfielder is still some boy when it comes to covering ground and there is not much question but what Duffy will sign him up if he can procure his services for the coming season.

GOOD BOWLING SCORES

Lively Contests Between Rival Teams

The Live Wires kept up their winning streak by stepping over the CUMAX rollers on their way to the league pennant in the game between the two teams last night. The final of 1371 to 1246.

The Highland M. E. team proved a trifle too strong for their Barrow Bowling league opponents the First Trinitarian Congregational rollers and defeated them by the score of 1324 to 1214. The winners took both the first and third strings.

In the Moody Bridge league the T. & S. team won out handsily from the L. O. M. Lowlys, taking the first and second strings and winning the match by the score of 1294 to 1250.

The six-men teams of the Braves and Silent Knights met in their Y. M. C. I. league match last night according to schedule. The Braves completely outclassed their rivals and took the game by winning all three strings. The final score stood 1510 to 1437.

Team One took the first and second strings from Team Three in their Brunswick Bowling league game last night and pulled out a winner by the score of 1313 to 1285. Both teams showed flashes of good rolling.

Team Seven of the Crescent two-man league fared up their team standing last night at the expense of Teams Ten, Eleven and Twelve. Team Seven won all three matches and put up a record for the highest number of games rolled in one evening. Not one of the three games rolled by this team was long in doubt when the pair who compose the team once hit their pace.

GEORGE ALGER WON

Defeated McDonough by Slight Margin

AUGUSTA, Me., March 25.—George Alger of Cambridge had a shade of advantage over Young McDonough of Manchester in two six-round bouts at city hall last night. Alger in the course of the scrap, cleverly dodged a half-dozen terrific rights. In the second round of the first bout Alger reached his opponent's face twice with telling effect and in the fifth played strong for the solar plexus.

In return McDonough landed a few body blows, one of them sending Alger to the ropes, but he quickly bounced back. Alger did all the rushing in the sixth, forcing McDonough to puff at the close.

The third round of the second bout was the fastest. Alger pushed McDonough to the ropes several times, but toward the close McDonough came back with two staggering body blows Alger was caught on the left neck with several hard side swings in the course of the contest, but recovered quickly. Neither suffered much damage.

Five good bouts will be put on at tonight's meeting of the Lowell A. C. and the indications point to one of the largest houses of the season. In the main bout of twelve rounds, Bill McKinnon of Roxbury will meet Billy Grupp of St. Louis and this contest promises to be one of the liveliest of the season. Both are aggressive mixers and they are in good condition. The exhibition between Jimmy Gardner and Jimmy Makan should prove interesting at least. Neither has been in the ring for some time, and tonight's engagement will test their abilities. Jimmy has done considerable training and feels that he has regained his cleverness. If he has the local sports will be elated. The semi-final will be fought by Sailor Fiske and Jimmy Reardon and this ought to prove a hummer. Both are there with the wallop and can stand a walling. They will mix for eight rounds. Young Cooney of Boston and the Gats will meet Gardner Brooks, of Sweden, will face in a six round preliminary and Finkle Boyle will meet Young. Connelly of Lawrence in the curtain raiser.

Jim Driscoll Turns Bookmaker

Jim Driscoll, the great English featherweight, has announced his retirement from the ring. He will be welcomed in America who remember the Englishman's wonderful ten round victory over the champion of the world, Alvin Kipps, when he boxed and outclassed Alvin Kipps, who at that time was the recognized featherweight champion of the world.

Driscoll has been following the racing game for the past several years, and has made him fairly well to do, and it is his intention to set himself up as a bookmaker.

Gift for Sick Child

A gift which brings happiness to a sick child is a paper doll given in this way: Send the doll, a small jointed doll, for which you can make crane paper dresses, with one dress, and a note to the sick child, saying, "Every day, or every third day, or every week, as you please, the morning mail will bring an addition to the doll's wardrobe."

At different times, send dresses for the house, party dresses, trimmed with paper flowers, hats, muffs, gloves, and coats, and other street clothes. Another doll or so can also be sent.

WHITE BUCKSKIN

SHOE WITH GRAY SPAT

IN PATENT KID

Mildly has been wearing low shoes and the thinnest kinds of silk and lisle thread hosiery all through the winter, but the spring season will introduce some radical changes in the low cut styles of footwear.

The illustration shows the very last city from Paris in pumps. Patent kid in black with very high heels and big pearl buckles is one of the designs sent over, while the white buckskin pump displaying black heels is another fancy.

For the woman who likes spats there is a delightful model with gray tips and black leather vamps. Shoes this season are going to match the costume with which they are worn, and there is a strong liking for shoes with silk tops.

Revival of Plaited Skirt

DAINTY AFTERNOON FROCK

That the plaited skirt has been revived there is not a shadow of doubt, for among all the many and diverse modes of the spring a modified version of the erstwhile plaited jupe shines out conspicuously.

The illustration shows a stunning costume with plaited skirt of the new order, as close and tight fitting as the much exploited bubble. The tunic overblouse is a smart affair with set-in sleeves, having an undersleeve of breasted silk. The surplice bodice fastened at one side with frog and the semi-high waisted belt in the back are style features of the spring season.

Dainty Dressing Sack

IN PINK AND WHITE LOVELINESS

Dainty, comfortable and easy to make is the dressing sack pictured. The morning used is white albatross, and the buttonholing and floral sprays are carried out in pink embroidery silks. The tie is of pink wash ribbon.

FOR SPRING WEDDINGS

New Fashions in Customs and Costumes

In the spring—no, the usual bromide quotation is not coming into this story. But a practical statement about the new fashions in wedding customs and costumes that are uppermost this spring. One of the latest innovations is the liberty to choose whatever one fancies as a material for the wedding gown. It need not even necessarily be white, for pink, champagne and gold and silver frocons have all been used at recent smart weddings. One rich bride who will have a stately church wedding is this season having made a medieval Genetian wedding dress. The salient features of this are a magnificent quilted gown, the gown being in rich brocade satin or velvet made with long tight sleeves falling to the knuckles, and a splendid long train.

This long sleeved gown has done away with one difficulty—namely, the sleeve that will not peel off with anything like grace when the critical moment arrives for putting on the ring. The hands being covered with the drooping points of the sleeves no gloves are needed, and the same idea can, of course, be adopted when an ordinary wedding gown is worn.

The wedding gown made of broad velvet embroidered in pearls, coats a small fortune it has many rivals. The most prominent is that of white satin or chiffon decked with real lace, the older and more precious the better. Just as gloves have been rendered unnecessary by the long sleeves of the modern bridal gown, so has the beautiful practice of covering the bride's face with the veil been allowed to fall into neglect, owing to the vogue for head veils. That a heavily patterned veil does disguise the face of gold leaves rising like a perfect circle, and the tulle substitute is charming, as it softens the features and adds the magic mystery to the bride's appearance. The custom of covering the bride's face has been revived in some quarters this spring, and one bride of the near future has ordered her veil cut with raw edges, so that it may look as cloud-like as possible.

Bridal wreaths vary tremendously. One well known milliner the other day received six orders for utterly different ones. One is a broad chaplet of gold leaves rising like a perfect circle. Another is a full crown of orange blossoms threaded like the daisy chains children make. A third is composed of pearl strands, falling in festoons over the ears white heather, roses and orange blossoms supporting the head here and there. The fourth is a simple and slender fillet of real myrtle leaves and blossoms, while the fifth will not extend right round the head, for it is a Russian diadem of orange blossoms. The sixth is a silver wreath that will be used to fasten the veil, which in this case is to im-

There is a fad this spring for veiled bridesmaids instead of hatted ones. An artistic bride has arranged that her bridesmaids shall wear short, square gold tissue veils weighted by gold tassels. Chaplets of daisies made of pink and silver leaves will wedge the veils down down upon the brows.

At another coming wedding a heavy of pretty maids will be gowned in gray and fluted behind the bride, looking like ghosts—but such radiant ghosts!

Thinks Chase Can't Play Second Base

Joe Birmingham, manager of the Cleveland Naps, doesn't believe Hal Chase will make good at second base. He explains thusly:

"As a first baseman Chase is a wonder. He can cover more ground than any other first baseman that lives. He plays so far from the bag that the second baseman can virtually sit on his back. But there's a vast difference between the two positions."

"It must be remembered, when a southpaw is mentioned as a second-baser possibility, that on every throw to first he will be forced to pivot. Now just recall the number of close plays on slow grounders to a second baseman. All the right hander has to do is to scoop the ball into the first baseman's mitt. Can you imagine how a left hander would do the trick without wasting time even though that left hander be as fast as Hal?"

"Here's another side of the question. How do you think he's going to receive those plays from short to second for a double play? To throw the ball to first he would be obliged to make a complete shift of his feet, which not only would involve loss of time—and time is precious then—but would likewise render him liable to serious injury because of a collision."

"I don't believe it possible for a left hander, even with the speed of Chase, to play second base, unless, of course, they decide to shift the bag to the position third now occupies."

Keep Bedding Clean

To prevent sheets and bed covering from tearing and soiling, it is a good plan to cover the entire top of the iron spring with heavy unbleached muslin, turning underneath about fifteen inch head and foot ends, and tie them together with strips of the same material at the four corners. One strip made six inches wide tied underneath the middle of the spring keeps the covering straight.

Mattresses and pillows should be covered with muslin. At the head end of comforters put a band fifteen inches on both sides. In this way the bedding will be kept fresh and clean for years.

GIBSON, PIRATES' VETERAN, SEEMS TO HAVE REGAINED HIS GREAT FORM

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 25.—Who says they do not come back? Well, they do! Look at George Gibson, the Pittsburgh Pirates' veteran catcher. Last season it was thought that he had seen his best playing days; that in a year or two more he would be in the minors. In the spring practice games George handled the pitchers as well, if not better, than he did in his best days. He now plays with lots of snap and pep with deadly aim. Manager Clarke is highly pleased with the showing of the veteran. Two years ago Gibson was considered the best catcher in the country.

MRS. EATON INDICTED FOR MURDER

Indictment Was in Six Counts and Alleged Poisoning in Each One

PLYMOUTH, March 27.—Mrs. Jennie May Eaton was indicted today for the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton. The admiral died suddenly at his home in Norwell, March 8th, and subsequently arsenical poisoning was found in the stomach.

The widow, who is 20 years the junior of the naval officer, was arrested last Thursday.

Indictment in Six Counts

The indictment, which was in six counts, alleged poisoning in each one, four being under what is known as common law and two under statutory law.

The first count charges poisoning with white arsenic mixed with tea on March 6 and continuing until March 8th, the day of the death, by mixing with water.

Mrs. Eaton's name was not mentioned in court. The foreman of the jury handed the report to the clerk of the court and the announcement was made that the jury had completed the business to which it was assigned and that a true bill had been found. District Attorney Barker told the court that by agreement between himself and counsel for the prisoner arraignment would be postponed until tomorrow, to which Judge Dwyer consented.

The second count charges poisoning with white arsenic placed in a cereal crink on March 6th and continuing to March 8th, the day of death.

The third count charges poisoning with white arsenic on March 7th by some means and manner to the jurors unknown.

The fourth count charges poisoning with white arsenic from January 1 to March 8 by some manner and means unknown to the jurors.

The fifth count charges poisoning with white arsenic on March 10th.

The sixth count charges poisoning with white arsenic from Jan. 1, 1912, to March 8, 1913.

The first, second, third and fourth counts in the indictment are common law. The fifth and sixth counts are in statutory law.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

Miss Margaret Blum of Boston will speak at the Y. W. C. A. hall on Sunday at 4 p. m. The singer will be Mrs. H. E. Symonds.

A Northfield meeting will be held Monday, March 25, at 8 o'clock, when everybody who is interested in the proposition of opening Lowell lodge this summer is invited to come to express her enthusiastic opinion.

Dr. Willard Scott, the able after-dinner speaker, will be the speaker in the Y. W. C. A. course. Dr. Scott has addressed with success series of clubs and organizations in twelve different states. His talk Tuesday evening at 7:45 in the Y. W. C. A. hall will be a humorous treat under the title "The Enchantment of the Near Future." Association members who have not yet obtained their complimentary tickets should do so early in preparation for this and the following programs, including the moving picture, ending to be given April 27 by Mr. C. W. Warren.

FRESHET IS THREATENED

In the Merrimack and Concord Rivers

The steady downpour of rain yesterday will swell the local rivers still more and should the heavy rain continue during the night and part of tomorrow, Lowell would undoubtedly be threatened with a freshet that would interfere with the operation of the mills and that would flood cellars in the lower district.

CHELMSFORD

Several hen thieves have been making raids on many local hen coops of late. The case is being looked into. Messrs. August Westberg, De Cico, and Charles Byard have had large numbers stolen. The authorities have been trying to locate the thieves who stole in the night 100 of Mr. William Karp's best hens, but without any result as yet. "Chickens will be cheap."

ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

Held Cake Sale in Colonial Hall in Aid of Parish House—Entertainment Tonight

The members of St. Anne's church conducted an entertainment and sale yesterday in Colonial hall in aid of the St. Anne's parish house building fund. Although the afternoon was stormy a large number of people were present and the various tables reported a successful business.

The hall was beautifully decorated and tables containing food and many other articles were extended around the hall. The chairmen of the tables are as follows: Fancy table, Mrs. Grove and Miss A. Condit; dance table, Mrs. L. R. Sprague and Miss Sharpe; cake table, Mrs. Marble, Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Garity; children's table, Mrs. Fairbanks, Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Pearson; boys' table, D. Kelly; choir table, Mr. A. Williams and Mrs. Dainton.

A supper will be served at 6 o'clock in charge of the following committee:

Mrs. Fleet, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Estes, Mrs. Holden and Mrs. Safford.

At 8 o'clock an entertainment will be given. Several of the young people will be given the opportunity of "house sense rhymes" while others will dress to resemble famous portraits. At 9 o'clock general dancing will be started.

The committee in charge of the affair is as follows: Mrs. Joseph Nesmith, chairman; Mrs. Frederick Wier, Mrs. Arthur Safford, Mrs. M. W. Holden, Mrs. Estes, and Miss Wells.

Fractured Arm

Narcisse Ducharme, residing at 5 McIntire street, suffered a painful accident while working around his home, when he fractured his left arm.

Mr. Ducharme was removing the storm windows and was standing on a step ladder. He suddenly lost his balance and fell to the ground, sustaining a fracture of the left arm. Dr. Theophile Laurin was summoned and treated the injured man.

Braus' Spring and Summer Exhibit

OF

Winsome Women's Apparel

No fashion exhibit in a decade has uncovered such a myriad of styles as shown in this Spring and Summer array of apparel for women and misses, correctly reflecting the latest creations of American and Paris fashion creators—styles that happily blend all the new smart ideas into garments of practical worth such as the average woman appreciates.

Nowhere else—and we believe at no other period of the season—will a similar opportunity be presented to view styles so unmistakably of foreign origin and at prices so unquestionably below the quotations that usually prevail. This is proven by our enormous buying capacity. We control seventeen stores and as a result we are able to secure the very lowest prices for the best in fabric, make and style. Your invitation to visit this superb exposition and to profit by its economies is a most urgent one.

Here you will see all the elite modes for Spring and Summer.

THEATRE PANIC AVERTED

Orchestra Plays as the Crowd Leaves

BOSTON, March 28.—To the air of "The Star Spangled Banner" more than 2000 persons at the Round-Up in the Boston theatre last night, quietly and without the least sign of alarm, filed out into the streets, following the announcement that a threatening fire was burning in a Tremont street building directly in the rear of the play house. By the time the curtain was rung down, there was no commotion and the audience went to the street as slowly as it would have under the ordinary conditions.

At R. E. Keith's theatre, the complete program was given as usual and even the noise of the working firemen and the pumping of engines was not heard. All the fire doors were closed and the theatre fire-department was ready for action in case of fire or a scare. At the Bijou Dream there was no excitement.

The fire was in the five-story brick building at 153 and 155A Tremont street, occupied on the first floor by Henry H. Tuttle & Co., a shoe concern. The fire started from an unknown cause and the loss was estimated by Chief Mullen at about $5000 on the stock of the concern and on the building.

On the upper floors, which are occupied by a number of small concerns, there was some smoke and a slight water damage.

On account of the high southwest wind it was feared that the fire would assume alarming proportions and, when the flames shot through the roof, it was feared that the entire building would be destroyed. This was due to the fact that the fire went upward by way of the elevator well. However, the blaze was confined to the rear of the building on Mason street, principally to the basement.

The chief marshal orders all to report at St. Middlesex dance, Lincoln hall, tonight, March 28th.

CHURCH TOWER SWAYS

Crowds Watch Building in Peril

BOSTON, March 28.—The wooden tower on the brick structure of the Harvard Street Methodist Episcopal church, Cambridge, which began to sway with the heavy winds yesterday morning, continued its rocking during the night, while a squad of officers were stationed about to warn passersby. Harvard street, a favorite thoroughfare for automobiles, was closed to traffic from Norfolk street to Prospect street, and likewise the entrance to Harvard street through Essex street.

Through the early part of the evening, despite the cold winds, men and women stood for hours watching the swaying tower, expecting it to topple any moment. Near the top of the square shaped tower is a large clock, which adds much to the weight and would carry the tower with great force should it be wrenched from its base.

For many years the bell of the clock in the tower has been used as a fire alarm signal for the city. Last the live wires connecting the bell with the fire alarm system should be an added danger should the tower fall, the wires were disconnected early in the afternoon.

No one from the building department of the city was willing to enter the tower yesterday afternoon to inspect the timbers, but such an inspection will take place as soon as the wind goes down.

the Boston & Maine road. The service south to Concord was working fairly well. Trains were running on delayed schedules north of St. Johnsbury but there had been no trains between that point and Wells River since last week. The railroad bridge over the Connecticut river at White River Junction was withstanding a terrific pressure from a broken beam of iron. Any break there was expected to threaten bridges farther down the river.

Four Washouts on C. V.

CONCORD, N. H., March 28.—A despatch received at the general offices of the Boston & Maine road in this city this morning from the Central Vermont management, announces that until further policies the road cannot accept passengers or freight for points above White River Junction. It is stated that the Central Vermont road is washed out in four places and that it will be 15 hours at least before traffic can be resumed. The Bristol branch of the Boston & Maine is again under water and passengers are being carried by coaches. On this branch the water stood a foot higher last night than on Saturday last when a long stretch of the road below Hill was washed away. The Boston & Maine bridge across the Connecticut river between West Lebanon and White River Junction was moved 15 inches out of line during the night by the flood and the debris lodged against it. A large force of men was sent from here at 2 this morning and no work concerning the safety of the structure has yet reached the offices of the road here. The Passumpsic branch is also tied up and train service over it has been abandoned.

Record High Water Mark

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., March 28.—The Connecticut river early today reached its highest mark ever. The water, with 15 feet of water running over the dam at Vernon five miles south of Brattleboro, at 3:30 a. m. the river was stationary and it was believed that the flood had reached its crest. Train service in Brattleboro has been entirely suspended as a result of the flood, but no property damage has been sustained.

The cotton mills at Vernon were forced to shut down today on account of lack of power, the water below the dam having backed into the tail race. Power for street railway and electric light service was received temporarily from Shelburne Falls.

Traffic Ordered Suspended

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., March 28.—Railroad traffic over all bridges in this section was ordered suspended today until the engineering department of the Boston & Maine road can determine their safety. Passengers on the night trains north and south of here were ordered to make part of their journey in carriages. The flood had reached the highway bridge to West Lebanon, N. H., a distance of seven miles. The electric light service here was closed by the flood while at West Lebanon, N. H., which receives its water supply from this place, the people were without water owing to the destruction of the bridge carrying the supply mains.

Landslide caused by the heavy rain blocked the tracks of the Woodstock railroad, which runs between here and Woodstock. The passengers on the last train from Woodstock were forced last night to get out of the coaches and help the train men shovel mud from the tracks.

Furniture Carried Down River

WOODSTOCK, N. H., March 28.—The crest of the Connecticut river food passed here last night and since then the river has fallen a few inches an hour. The damage to the lowland houses was not great, though many families saw their furniture carried down the river and their gardens swept away.

The train service from the south over the White Mountain division of the Boston & Maine and west over the Wells River and White Mountains practically intact today. Washouts at Barton on the north and at Newbury on the south on the Passumpsic division stopped trains in either direction. The crest of the White Mountain division was also cut off by washouts and it was stated that Quebec and Montreal service from Boston was being handled today by way of North Conway, Berlin and the Grand Trunk.

LECTURE AND CONCERT

Large Attendance at St. Patrick's School Hall—Musical Program Under Direction of John J. Kelly

There was a large attendance at the lecture and concert which was held at St. Patrick's parochial school hall last evening, the affair being conducted under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. The musical program which was in the care of Mr. John J. Kelly was one of the best ever provided and consisted of numbers from several local talent.

A feature of the evening, however, was an illustrated lecture on "The Holy Land," by William B. Goodwin. The lecture was very interesting and the series of views shown were very pleasing and instructive.

The entire program was as follows: Overture, piano duet, Miss Mary Bolton; Mr. John J. Kelly illustrated lecture, "The Holy Land," Mr. Wm. B. Goodwin; "The Holy City," Adams; Mr. James E. Donnelly, baritone; "The Palmers," Faure, Miss Frances Tighe; soprano; "The New Born King," Leprieu; Mr. J. J. Dalton, baritone; "Nativity and Nine," Champion, Mrs. Nettie Sawyer Roberts, contralto.

ANNUAL BANQUET

Board of Trade Completing Arrangements for the Event—Ladies Will be Admitted

The annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade will be held at Associated hotel on the evening of April 1, Lowell day, and notice to that effect have been sent out to all the members of the association. The dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, after a half hour reception.

On this particularly night the gallery will be reserved for women who may secure tickets from the members of the the board of trade, as one lady's ticket will be given out with each banquet ticket.

The principal speakers of the evening will be Hon. John A. Sullivan, of Boston, former congressman and a member of the Boston finance commission. The other address will be given by Hon. William S. McNary, of Boston, also a former congressman, and a member of the Boston port directors and of the harbor and land commission. Mayor James E. O'Donnell will make a brief introductory speech, and it may be that one other speaker, and entertainer will be secured.

Those who expect to attend are requested by Secretary John H. Murphy to lose no time in responding to his letter of invitation in order that all

A LITTLE NONSENSE

LOGICAL REASON.
Fred—Darling, I love you. Will you be my wife?
Ruth—You'll have to ask the Governor.
Fred—Why do you call your father, Governor?
Ruth—Because he vetoes so many of my bills.

EFFECTIVE
"The climax to his wooing was very romantic. He proposed to her on the verge of a mountain gorge."
"What did she do?"
"She threw him over."

HER BEST EFFORT.
"Mother told me to keep Mr. Huxton at a distance while we were at Fair Beach."
"And did you?"
"Well, I succeeded in keeping him at a distance from other girls."

NOT PLEASING HIM.
"Is your husband difficult to please in the matter of dress?"
"Yes. When I get a gown that he likes he doesn't like the bill, and when the bill suits him he doesn't care a rap for the gown."

JUST LOOKED.
Wiley—That's the kind of husband to have! Did you hear Mr. Bobbie tell his wife to go and look at some 100 hats?
Hubby—My dear, have I ever deprived you of the privilege of looking at 100 hats?

A REVERSIBLE PROVERB.
Mrs. B.—Too bad Mrs. Smart always has such abominable weather for her afternoon teas.
Mrs. W.—Yes; she never pours, but rains.

TO INVAD WHITE HOUSE

The Suffragists Will Call Again Monday

WASHINGTON, March 28.—President Wilson, for the second time in his short career of office, on Monday will have a committee of suffragists who will invade the White House with the demand for the ballot.

Arrangements were made today for the reception of the women by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon. The leaders of the party will include Mrs. Dubois, wife of the former senator from Idaho and Mrs. Mondell and Mrs. Baker, wife of the representatives in congress from Wyoming and California respectively.

In contrast with the previous attack on the White House the coming advance in force will be undertaken only by women who hail from those states having woman suffrage.

Smoke Talk

At their last meeting the members of the Union Carlin Suffrage League voted to hold a smoke talk and entertainment for the members and their friends and for this purpose a committee was appointed. The affair will be held at the society's quarters in Gratton hall on April 24.

BODY OF MURDERED KING

Now in Athens—Funeral April 2

ATHENS, March 28.—Escorted by foreign warships, the royal yacht Amphitrite, bearing the body of King George, arrived at Piraeus shortly before noon yesterday.

The coffin was carried ashore by the prince and placed on a gun carriage, which was drawn by 44 sailors to the railway station. Dense crowds displaying emblems of mourning lined the route.

An escort of troops accompanied the gun carriage, which was followed by the members of the cabinet and the court officials. The body was taken by special train to Athens and was transferred to the cathedral, where the foreign diplomats assembled.

Prayers for the dead were recited and a brief service was conducted. Dowager Queen Olga was overwhelmed with grief.

The body of the murdered king will lie in state beginning today, and the funeral will take place April 2.

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt., March 25.—The upper reaches of the Connecticut river valley emerged today from the flood which has been sweeping down the watersheds since last week but the lower valley from here to the river's mouth was still menaced with high water. The crest of the flood appeared to be between here and Brattleboro at dawn. At both points the river was stationary at about 15 feet. The damage in the valley was comparatively slight and so far as known there

Church to Aid Sufferers

POLICE ARREST THIEF WITH $50,000 HAUL—MARTIAL LAW PREVAILS

The waters in the flood districts in Ohio and Indiana receded last night so that most of the people who were marooned and almost frozen on the tops of houses have been rescued while the relief work by municipal, state and federal authorities is well under way.

The problem of relieving the victims and burying the dead is now one of the most pressing at all points, although the response to the call for relief has been prompt and generous, the organization is not sufficiently large to reach all the sufferers in time to prevent the worst results.

The gruesome conditions left by the receding waters are appalling, showing as they do, human bodies embedded in mud and side by side with those the carcasses of horses on which many sought safety. Only prompt work by health authorities will prevent pestilence. The fact that lighting systems are out of commission and means of communication destroyed renders the relief work more difficult. As to the total number of dead, and the aggregate loss, only the merest approximation can be made as yet, and all the statements given out were mere guess work.

DAYTON, O., March 28.—The flood situation today is this: Previous estimates of the number drowned were greatly exaggerated. The property loss from fire will not exceed $1,500,000. The damage caused to mercantile houses, factories and residences will run anywhere from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000. The water has receded from the business section of the city and from a large portion of the residence section. Residents in portions still inundated are being taken to sections not affected by the flood.

There is no lack of food. The telephone systems are being restored. There is much suffering from cold, but all available fuel has been appropriated and there is prospect of immediate relief.

So far there has been no epidemic of sickness. One thousand militiamen arriving today have the city in field control, effectively preventing looting, night-riding that will interfere with rescue work, and all disorder.

Touring the business sections today, Associated Press men found the high stage of the flood had been nine feet at the corner of Third and Main streets, which is in the very heart of the city. The crushing water flooded the first floor of every store in the business district.

This constitutes the chief financial loss. The tower of the steel high school was leveled and the Leonard building on Main street was undermined so that it collapsed. Many houses were swept away in Riverside, West Dayton, North Dayton and Edgemont.

The following buildings without the flood-furnishing shelter to about a thousand people, who were marooned in them Tuesday and kept there until Thursday: Governor building, Kuhn building, the Arcade, two Cappel buildings, Calhoun Bank building, Schwab building, Commercial building, Mendelsohn building, Ryck-Kumler building, Reynolds building and United Brethren Publishing Co.'s building. None of the public buildings was destroyed.

The fire loss is positively limited to the destruction of the Dayton Gas, Light & Coke Co.'s plant, the roof of two and three-story buildings on both sides of Third street, from Jefferson street to St. Clair avenue, the Troy Laundry Co. plant and two apartment house fires on the West Side.

A daring robbery was thwarted today when the police arrested a man who was escaping from the city with a satchel containing $50,000 in diamonds and jewelry which he had stolen from downtown jewelry stores.

The Fourth National Bank building which was reported several times to have been destroyed by fire, was untouched by flames, although a building immediately adjoining was burned.

Chief of Police Allaback today told correspondents that reports he had received indicated the number of fatalities to be far less than early estimates. As nearly as can be ascertained about 100 persons were drowned in Riverside.

MRS. EATON PLEADED NOT GUILTY TO INDICTMENT

Charging Her With the Murder of Husband—Remanded to Jail
Without Bail

PLYMOUTH, March 25.—Mrs. Jennie May Eaton pleaded not guilty today to the indictment charging her with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, Judge Hugo Dubuque remanded her to jail without bail, pending trial, the date for which has not been set.

Mrs. Eaton stood by the prisoner's cage in the superior court room while the court clerk read the 200 word document and showed no trace of nervousness. When asked to plead to the charge she answered promptly and in a clear, firm voice: "Not guilty." The widow was accompanied by her attorneys, William A. Morse and Francis J. O'Connell. At the suggestion of Dist. Atty. Barker the court allowed counsel for the defense two weeks to examine the indictment and file exceptions. No motion regarding the date of the trial was made.

Mrs. Eaton was brought from the jail to the courthouse in an automobile nearly a half hour before her arraignment. The automobile took a roundabout course to avoid the photographing. The widow was dressed in black and her face was hidden by a heavy veil.

After the court proceedings which were very brief Mrs. Eaton and her counsel conferred for some time in one of the ante rooms. The probability that a commission would be appointed to determine Mrs. Eaton's sanity received official confirmation today when Dist. Atty. Barker said:

"The mental condition of Mrs. Eaton will be very carefully examined." In the indictment returned yesterday it was alleged that the prisoner administered arsenic to her husband in various manners and at different times from Jan. 1 to March 8, the day of his death.

TRIUMPHAL ENTRY TO ADRIANOPLE

King Ferdinand Receives Sword of Turkish Commander—Turks Routed at Tchatalja Forts

ADRIANOPLE, March 28.—King Ferdinand of Bulgaria today entered the fortress of Adrianople, which recently fell before the assault of the combined Bulgarian and Serbian armies. He drove through long lines of Turkish prisoners and proceeded to the military club, where Sultani Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, handed him his sword. King Ferdinand returned him the weapon with a few complimentary words.

Shortly afterward, accompanied by his two sons and Gen. Savoff, Ivanoff and Petroff, his majesty reviewed his victorious troops.

The attempt made by the Turks to destroy the railroad bridge over the Maritza river was partially successful, but repairs are being carried out and trains will be running within a week.

TURKS WERE ROUTED BY BULGARS FROM THE DEFENSE OF THE FORTS

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 28.—The recent fighting between the Bulgarian and Turkish armies at the Tchatalja lines resulted in a complete rout of the Turkish troops who after a short but stubborn defense of their advanced posts began a retreat which soon became a panic stricken rout.

In spite of the stories of long continued and desperate fighting only 500 wounded soldiers have been brought to the hospitals.

The news of the capture of Adrianople has cast a gloom over official circles while the press generally expresses the opinion that recent events will make the task of the European powers harder and peace is believed to be farther away now than it was some days ago.

PARK SUPERINTENDENT

May be Elected by Park Commission Tonight

The park commission will meet tonight and may proceed to the election of a chairman, and a superintendent to succeed Mr. Whittier, resigned. Commissioner Carr, some time ago, requested an opinion from the city solicitor relative to the power of the park commission to elect its chairman, and this forenoon the following opinion was submitted:

March 28, 1913.
Mr. Henry Carr, Park Commissioner, City of Lowell.

Dear Sir:
In response to your inquiry relative to the power of the park commission to elect its chairman, the city solicitor is of the opinion that every deliberative body has a right to elect its chairman in conformity with the rules adopted by it for its government.

If your body has any such rules then you are to be governed by them; if you have no such rules then you should give to me more specific facts so I might determine your point of view.

Respectfully,
J. Joseph Hennessy,
City Solicitor.

Kernan for Superintendent
John Woodbury Kernan, a civil engineer, is a candidate for superintendent of parks and has. It is stated, at least two votes on the board. Mr. Kernan, as has been stated, is a civil engineer and has had considerable experience in his special line and he is said to be well recommended. His home is at 22 Bellevue street. He has been employed in various capacities under the department of agriculture at Washington from which he holds a good recommendation. He is also highly recommended by an official of the city of Wakefield, under whom he was employed.

ALL READY FOR PARADE

Big Turn Out Expected Tomorrow.

All arrangements for the monster parade which is to be held Saturday afternoon are now completed and all leads to a flattering success, providing the weather man does not butt in at the last minute and make it disagreeable. However, this is not looked for at all and it is believed the parade in honor of St. Patrick in which most of the Catholic organizations of the city will participate will be an unprecedented event in the history of the city of Lowell.

The parade is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock sharp and at the request of many, the Sun again publishes today the route of the march, which is as follows:
Formation on Broadway. From Broadway to Suffolk, where it will be reviewed at St. Patrick's church by church dignitaries. From Suffolk to Merrimack, to Central, to Gorham and to Davis square. From there the paraders will march down Back Central street to Church, to High, to Hartlett, to Everett, to East Merrimack, to Bridge, to Centermarket at Seventh, and back to Merrimack square and Merrimack street as far as John street.

Always Have Musterole in the House

Every family should have a jar of MUSTEROLE at hand.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, which takes the place of the old-fashioned mustard plaster and does not blister.

No plaster is necessary, simply rub it on—and the pain is gone!

It is the quickest relief for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Convulsion, Neuritis, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of the Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colds of the Chest (it prevents Pneumonia). Nothing like MUSTEROLE for croupy children.

At your druggist's in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50. Sold by druggists everywhere. Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole Company, Cleveland, O., and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

William Niers, Sacramento, Cal.: "Our friends and ourselves would not willingly be without Musterole, as it has saved doctors' expenses many times."

where it will be reviewed by the chief marshal and dismissed.

Special Order No. 2

The following being special order No. 2, from the office of the chief marshal of the parade, has been issued:

Alexander Cryan will do escort duty for the Holy Name society of St. Michael's church, previous order countermanded.

Frank McCormack will report at the Polish school on High street at 1:15 o'clock and escort the Polish military organization to its point of rest.

James E. Sullivan will report at the Middlesex street depot and assist Mr. Timothy McNamara in the formation of the Manchester Hibernians.

John H. Dwyer will report at Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, and conduct the Lithuanian organizations to their point of rest.

William Gargan will report at St. Anthony's hall, Chapel street, at 1:15 o'clock and conduct that society to the point of rest.

James C. Donovan will meet the Holy Name society of St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, on its arrival at the Middlesex street depot, and escort it to its place in line.

John Clowry will report at the Middlesex street depot at 1:40 o'clock and conduct St. Mary's cadets to their point of rest.

By order of the chief marshal,
Thomas J. O'Donnell,
Chief of Staff.

Chief Marshal McMahon has provided sprigs of real shamrock for the aides. The shamrock can be procured at his store.

Division 2, A. O. H.

There was a special meeting of Division 2, A. O. H., Wednesday night with a large attendance. All arrangements were finally completed for the parade. The division will be headed by the Mathew life and drum corps of Lawrence. The officers will wear tall hats, frock coats, dark trousers, white gloves, ascot ties and carry batons. The members will wear their full regalia and white gloves, and will meet at Elks hall, Middle street, not later than 1 o'clock.

Orders for St. Michael's Holy Name.

The Holy Name society of St. Michael's parish met last night and completed final arrangements for the parade on Saturday.

It was decided that the dress be dark suits and white gloves. The members of the society and all the men of the parish who are going to turn out, can secure gloves at the church before the parade. The men will meet at the church at 1 o'clock sharp where the Naval Marine band of Charlestown will be waiting to escort them to Liberty square where they will take their places in line.

ONE DEAD, ANOTHER DYING

Fire Dropped in Water Causes Dangerous Explosion at Abendroth Foundry in Portchester

GREENWICH, Conn., March 28.—An explosion in the Abendroth Bros. foundry in Portchester late yesterday afternoon caused by the dumping of molten metal into a vat of water, blew out windows in one side of the foundry and hurled a hot piece of iron through one of the windows, where it struck Paul Zepherian, a moulder, in the stomach, killing him.

Walter Clements, another employee, was taken to the hospital in a dying condition. It is believed the dumped fire landed in a pool of water, causing the explosion.

BAY STATE STREET R. R.

Takes Out Permit for $60,000 Building

The cost of the new brick and concrete car barns to be built by the Bay State street railway in Middlesex street is estimated at $60,000. A permit for the erection of the building was taken out this morning at the office of the commissioner of public property and licenses. The building will have a front of 84 feet, 1 inch; rear the same, and it will be 255 feet and 2 inches deep. It will be 150 feet from the street line, and besides the barns it will contain offices, store rooms, etc. It will be of mill construction, 12 by 12 posts and will have 16 skylights, metal frame. The building will be equipped with automatic sprinklers and heated by steam. It will be built of brick and concrete and will be one story high.

BURLINGTON, Vt., March 28.—The railroad situation by reason of the flood was better today to the north and east than south of this city. Trains ran over the Rutland railroad without difficulty. The Vermont, as far east as Montpelier and to St. Albans and Montpelier. Washouts to the south over the Rutland line together with high water along Otter river and the loss of a bridge between Middlebury and Rutland stopped all traffic in that direction. Lake Champlain was fairly high today, but no damage resulted along the water front.

Sulpholac Restores the Health of the Skin

Acne, (pimples and blackheads) is developed by the accumulation of waste matter and unhealthy tissue in the pores, a perfect home for germs. The skin quickly becomes irritated, infected and inflamed.

All skin eruptions which are caused by germs are promptly killed by Sulpholac. It contains sulphur and sulphur is so valuable in caring for the skin that many attempts have been made to successfully incorporate it in a cream. Here it is combined with a highly-prized germ destroyer. Sulpholac reaches the cause of the trouble—the germ.

Prescribed by physicians for years. Now on sale at your druggist's. Invest 50c in a good-sized jar, with full directions, and see how it clears your skin. For free sample write Hudson & Co., Inc., 149 and 151 West 36th street, New York.

ASSAULT CASE TRIED

North Chelmsford and
Other Cases Heard

This morning's session of police court was mostly taken up with an assault and battery case in which the two principals and the majority of the witnesses were foreigners. The services of an interpreter were needed in order to acquaint the witnesses with the attorneys' queries and this fact caused the case to drag over until the afternoon session.

The warrant charged Abraham James, with assault with a dangerous weapon upon Peter John. The scene of all the trouble was the Silesia mills, North Chelmsford and the alleged assault took place on the night of March 20th. It seems that the defendant has charge of the lighting system in the mills and attends to the turning on or off, as the case might be, of the lights for the particular room in which both of them worked. The complainant appeared in court with an eye that still showed that it had recently been in contact with something substantial. He claimed the defendant had struck him with an iron bar such as is used in the work that each man does. He also asserted that defendant had hit him quite forcibly in the hip and jaw, causing the blood to flow. The next witness for the prosecution followed out his friend's lead, and showed the court where defendant had slightly scratched him with an alleged knife pass. He stated that the knife was over a foot in length. The defendant, from the second witness' testimony, had not relished the idea of his butting in and had told him not to appear before him as a peacekeeper or he might receive just what the other was going to pass out to Peter John. As there were about a dozen witnesses it was decided to hold this case over to the afternoon court by mutual consent.

The case of Victor Sousa, charged with assault and battery and assault on an officer, was placed on file by Judge Enright. Joseph O'Connor, Esq. was counsel for Sousa.

Thomas G. Henry was in court on the charge of drunkenness, and his wife took the stand and related to the court just how her husband had been behaving of late. She said that he had not been sober for several weeks and was doing nothing toward supporting her and the three children. In consideration of his family Judge Enright let the defendant down with a suspended sentence to the house of correction upon his solemn promise to provide for his family in the future.

Patrick McMahon, on a similar charge, got a suspended sentence.

The case of Adolard Bergeron, charged with the larceny of five saws and various other tools from Victor Lussard, was brought to a close this morning by the appearance of the defendant's brother from out of town, who paid for all the things that his brother admitted stealing. Bergeron's case was placed on file.

Louis Mulhinch was charged with larceny from the Pilling's shoe shop

BALL IN PRESIDENT'S HONOR

Members of All Political Parties Enjoy Social Event

A ball in honor of the election of President Wilson was held in the town hall at Westford last night and the affair proved one of the most successful of the season in that picturesque town on the hill.

Senator Edward Fisher had charge of the general arrangements. It was intended to give the dance on the evening of March 4, but several of the committee asked for a postponement and it was granted.

Members of all political parties and their wives and daughters attended the dance and the hall was handsomely decorated. In the gathering also were a number of Lowell, Chelmsford, Ayer, Tyngsboro, Concord, Dunstable and Billerica residents.

In carrying out the general arrangements, Senator Fisher was assisted by Oscar R. Spalding, George W. Haywood, William H. H. Burbeck, John Feeney, Alex. Fisher, John A. Healey, John M. Fletcher, Albert B. Hall, Michael L. McGlinchey, Robert J. McCarthy, Alex. McDonald, J. Herbert Fletcher, Albert W. Haywood, Edward Riney, Florence T. Sullivan, Fred M. Delee, John A. Sullivan, David Desjardins, Frank Haley, Robert J. Hemen and mond, Henry A. McDonald, John Feeney, and, upon Deputy Downey's petition, the case was continued until tomorrow. John Rynn and Patrick J. Burko were both fined $5 for their second appearance within a year for drunkenness.

ROCHESTER SUFFERS FROM FLOOD

High Water Record in Western New York Broken—Fire Dept. Called Out

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 25.—The pond broke on account of the high water record has been broken. In western New York and from nearly every level and town some tales of damage and suffering on account of the floods.

In Rochester, the water has risen to its highest level in many years. The Erie, Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads and other lines are badly crippled throughout the section. The Genesee valley south of Rochester is a vast lake. The water has reached the level of the Erie and Genesee rivers and is out of their banks. At the same time, the water has risen to the level of the city and is out of its streets. The water has risen to the level of the city and is out of its streets. The water has risen to the level of the city and is out of its streets.

Revised estimates which came in early today from the flooded districts of Ohio and Indiana show that reports of loss of life in many cities and towns had been overestimated.

The greatest anxiety still centered about Dayton, where an accurate estimate of the number of victims of the flood continued to be an impossibility. The deaths promise to be much less at Columbus, O., than first reports from the western part of that city indicated.

In parts of Dayton, which have been explored by a motor boat, the death list has been greatly reduced from first estimates and unless the number of victims in the north section of the city is found to be large, the death in the entire city may not exceed 200. In Miami, where more than 500 persons were reported drowned, less than 20 lost their lives, according to latest reports. In Chillicothe, where the number drowned was reported at 500, the death list will not exceed 25. Similar results were expected as to Zanesville and other Washington valley towns. Indiana points continue to report improving conditions during the night with estimates of deaths shrinking as more accurate reports were made.

32 LIVES LOST AT VENICE IN BUTLER COUNTY, OHIO—APPEALS FOR FOOD

CINCINNATI, March 25.—Another flood victim community was heard from today when Governor Frazier was notified that 32 lives had been lost at Venice in Butler county. The dead were members of five families. The post office of Venice is in ruins.

FLOOD SUBSIDING PERCEPTIBLY AND THOUSANDS LEAVE DAYTON FOR SUBURBS

WEST DAYTON, O., March 25.—Backed up by the militia the committee of citizens in charge of relief work in the various sections of the flooded city have a third day on the situation today.

President G. H. Smith of the chamber of commerce expressed the prevailing sentiment today when he said: "We do not want people to think that Dayton is unable to recover from the effects of the disaster. We are going to show to that we are capable of coping with the situation with entire confidence."

A brilliant sun today tempered the gloom of the rainy day. The flood subsided perceptibly. Flood victims who had been pinned in the down town sections of the city were able to make their way to the suburbs by the trolley. On main street in the heart of Dayton it was possible to pick a dry path over the pavement.

RIVER RECEIVING RAPIDLY AND RESCUED PARTIES REACH THE INUNDED SECTIONS

COLUMBUS, O., March 25.—Some definite idea as to the total number of persons who lost their lives on the west side of Columbus when the Scioto river flooded that section is expected to be gained today. Hundreds of rescuers and relief parties this morning started for the flooded section with supplies of clothing and food. Victims of the flood suffered greatly last night from the cold. However, the river is receding rapidly and rescue parties will be able to reach many inundated sections of the West Side which were under water yesterday. West Columbus remains practically under martial law. Militia companies on duty have been ordered to shoot looters on sight. Thousands of curious and those with friends and relatives in the flooded districts are being kept out of the West Side by police and troops. The city relief station at the city hall and the newspapers are maintaining and compiling lists of the rescued as well as lists of the dead. Scores of persons are still unaccounted for and the officials are making desperate efforts to verify reports of persons reported drowned.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW

West Indianapolis practically is under martial law and more but organized rescuers and persons bearing passes from the governor's office are permitted to enter that section of the city. State troops are patrolling the district to run down and capture vandals who robbed stores and abandoned homes during the early evening. Relief trains loaded with provisions have been able to enter this district, where the water fell more than seven feet during the night. Gorged streams carrying the waters away from all these points are emptying their huge floods, however, through the Wabash river below Terre Haute and the White River into that lower stretch of the Wabash that for forty miles carries practically all the waters drained from Indiana into the Ohio river.

MIAMI IS STILL EIGHT FEET UNDER WATER—RELIEF WORK IN PROGRESS

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 25.—Miami, the town of 5000 population east of here which has heretofore been an unknown quantity in the flood situation, was reached last night and reported that the death list there will not exceed 50. Only one body has been recovered. The property damage will run high. Miami is still under eight feet of water. The river is receding rapidly and relief work will be begun today, provisions from Dayton and Centerville being on the way to Miami.

FLOOD RECEIVING AT RATE OF THREE INCHES AN HOUR AT FORT WAYNE

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 25.—With the flood receding at the rate of three inches an hour this city has the situation in control and stands ready to assist its less fortunate neighbors. The property loss is estimated at $1,000,000 and it is almost certain that the loss of life will not exceed 50.

The pumping station was started up last night, two locomotives furnished by the Lake Shore railroad furnishing the power. The water is being pumped from the river and the only dripping that is available is brought in bottles.

NIGHT BROUGHT FLOODED SECTIONS GREAT RELIEF—INDIANAPOLIS UNDER MARTIAL LAW

INDIANAPOLIS, March 25.—Night brought good devastated Indiana cities great relief through rapidly falling water. But from southern and southwestern portions of the state where the water flooded streams converge in the Wabash river reports varying in reliability brought tales of fresh disaster. From the most seriously flooded area along the upper Wabash and lower Ohio and other towns struck by the White Water river floods today drew their attention largely to greater intimacy than he has on the platform, in his books, or in his editorial writing, and the American people, as well as the greater public, will learn about his experiences, his philosophy of life, and so much of his achievement as will illustrate why he has come to hold the views he now holds, and what he believes can be taught thereby to others.

They will meet him at close range. In these papers, beginning Sunday, March 30, Mr. Roosevelt will tell some of the things he has learned and how he has learned them, telling them primarily with a view to the help that may thereby be given. This autobiography will afford keen satisfaction and high inspiration to the young people of the country who are all especially interested in personal narrative of active achievement.

These papers will be fully illustrated with portraits, fac-similes of various documents, pictures of buildings and localities, and other appropriate matter.

Theodore Roosevelt's Own Story of His Life

(These chapters will be published by special arrangement with The Outlook, of which Theodore Roosevelt is the Contributing Editor.)

The Boston Globe announces for publication every other week, beginning Sunday, March 30, a series of papers by Theodore Roosevelt, under the title "Some Chapters of a Possible Autobiography," which are certain to be of intense human interest. They will be not only of national, but of international importance in their interpretation of a personality which during many years has probably attracted more widespread attention in newspapers, periodicals and among the people than any other single personality of the present day.

The world knows Mr. Roosevelt chiefly as a statesman and public servant, as an orator and soldier and writer.

Only a few know him as a private citizen, and many of the personal experiences that have helped to mold his remarkable career are known only to his close friends and co-workers.

In these papers Mr. Roosevelt will talk with spent through the city three days ago. The river had begun to recede, and reinforcements for the National guard on duty in the streets were entering the suburbs and provisions had advanced to within four miles of the city. The sun rose clear and bright, and there were indications that the bitter cold of the past 24 hours was passing. Conditions are still distressing. The electric light and water companies are out of commission and will be for days. One small gas line is serving the city with a full supply of fuel and there is little if any coal available. Provisions are scarce and many families in the flooded sections are without food. Communication between the city and the section known as Putnam, where it is believed the loss of life will be found to be greatest, is still cut off and all public and private business is at a standstill. Looting has begun and the military have been given orders to shoot down the first thief caught at work.

FRES. WILSON STILL IN READINESS TO LEAVE FOR FLOODED DISTRICT

WASHINGTON, March 28.—When President Wilson was advised today of the progress of Secretary Garrison's special train toward the flood district, he was still holding himself in readiness to go to Dayton at an hour's notice if Secretary Garrison wired him that his presence could do any good. A special train of relief supplies leaves Ohio today.

OHIO RIVER IS STILL RISING AND THREATENS FURTHER DAMAGE ALONG ITS BANKS

WHEELING, W. Va., March 28.—The Ohio river here this morning was rising at the rate of two inches an hour. Hundreds of persons driven from their homes by the high water, walked the streets of this city and surrounding towns during the night, unable to secure shelter, but there was little actual suffering as the night was not cold.

BALTIMORE & OHIO BRIDGE OVER MUSKINGUM RIVER HAS BEEN SWIFT AWAY

GRAVELLANK, O., March 28.—From this point, within sight of Marietta, O., but separated by the Muskingum river, it can be seen that the Baltimore & Ohio bridge at the mouth of the Muskingum has gone down and the highway bridge over the same stream has been washed away. The great bridge connecting Marietta and Wheeling, W. Va., across the Ohio was intact this morning. The country for miles is one vast sea of surging flood.

CENSORSHIP OVER PERSONS ATTEMPTING TO GO TO CITIES IN FLOOD DISTRICT

COLUMBUS, O., March 28.—The military authorities upon the order of Gov. Cox will exercise a censorship over persons attempting to go to Dayton or other cities in the flood districts. This was announced at the executive office this morning. Gov. Cox gave out a statement saying that the railroads are using all of their energies in giving first aid to the stricken districts and that he saw no reason for taking over the operation of any of the lines and placing them in charge of the National guard.

Offenders Will be Jailed

"Any person attempting to go to Dayton without a legitimate excuse will be arrested and put in jail," the governor added. "We are determined that the railroads shall not be burdened with carrying persons who want to go there merely out of morbid curiosity and the military arm of the state will be used in this respect."

At the Union station in this city today former Adjutant General Hughes with a detail of men interrogated every person who sought information about means of getting into Dayton and all were required to state what direct personal interest they might have in the Dayton disaster.

DAYTON BEGAN ITS FOURTH DAY OF FLOOD UNDER STRICT MARTIAL LAW

SOUTH DAYTON, O., March 28.—Facing the tremendous task of caring for its ever-increasing army of refugees and recovering its dead, Dayton began its fourth day of flood under strict martial law. With headquarters at the Hamilton park, Col. Zimmerman of the Fifth regiment, Ohio National Guard, initiated plans for organization that will protect the city during the

Let Resinol Heal Your Skin Troubles

Thousands of Sufferers Have Found Skin Health at Last

Have you suffered for weeks, months, or even years, with eczema or some other itching, burning, unsightly eruption that makes daytime a misery and night a torment? Have you tried treatment after treatment in vain, and, perhaps, given up in despair? Thousands whose skins are now clear have gone through this same pitiful experience. At last they tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. The soothing, healing, antiseptic Resinol medication stopped the itching instantly and soon all trace of the disease was gone.

Why don't you profit by their experience and let Resinol stop your skin troubles, too? Resinol is a physician's prescription which has been used by their doctors for eighteen years in the treatment of all sorts of skin humors, sores, boils, wounds, and piles. You can use Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap freely with the perfect assurance that it contains nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. For liberal free samples write to Dept. 13-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Resinol is sold by every druggist in the United States.

ensuing weeks of reconstruction. Military companies from all parts of the state reached Dayton during the morning and by noon every accessible section was under strict guard. Members of the state board of health, bringing carloads of lime and other disinfectants, were to reach here during the day and begin the work of prevention of disease.

Appeals of 5000

From his headquarters, Col. Zimmerman listened to the appeals of more than 5000 persons before noon. Hundreds of the visitors waited for hours in the long lines of humanity that circled through the park up to military headquarters.

Milk for babies and medicines for invalids were not forgotten by the rescue squads.

It was the aim of the military organization to keep from the danger line all persons seeking friends.

"Be Satisfied You're Not Dead"

"Be satisfied you're not dead yet," was the colonel's disposition of many of the applicants. Men of the Toledo naval reserve launched their staunch boats in the swift current which cut off the fire area about Third and Jefferson streets, where it was reported there was tremendous loss of life. But the dead were not so sought as the living, except by the dozens of undertakers who fought each other in their competition to obtain corpses which occasionally eddied out from the main flood into piles of debris now high and dry. The problem for providing for refugees was bravely faced by an army of workers, many of whom came from neighboring cities equipped with carloads and trainloads of food.

Safeguard Against Disease

John M. Patterson as aide in charge of the southern military district of Dayton, issued an order today that all householders build cesspools in their backyards. This is the first safeguard against disease. Dayton's sewerage is completely wrecked. Engineers of the state militia refused to venture an estimate of when it might be restored.

Care For Living First

A score of motorboats and the life-saving boats on in the flooded district early and by night it was hoped relief would be extended to all those still alive. No effort was being made to take out any bodies, the first care being for the living. The boats began to return early from the nearer sections, each depositing its load of from 15 to 20 survivors. Most of them were weak from deprivation and suffering so as to be scarcely able to move. By 8 o'clock several hundred had been brought to the National Cash Register Co. hospital on stretchers from the south side of the river.

The food situation was much brighter today. The trucks sent from the cash register factory of which J. J. Patterson is the leader manned by men with military orders to commander potatoes and food from the farmers, brought back a good supply of vegetables and several relief trains reaching the city with provisions. The rescue work also had taken on a semblance of system and all the streets from which the flood had receded were patrolled by militia. The people also were urged to get back to their houses wherever possible.

Beware of Thieves

"Beware of thieves and burglars," said an official bulletin given wide circulation. "Don't leave your houses without protection. It was thieves who caused you to abandon the natural gas explosion. The natural gas has been turned off and there is no danger."

Without Food or Water

Sixty Sisters of Notre Dame and several hundred persons for whom they had provided refuge were found by the Louisville lifesaving crew today to have been entirely without food or water since Tuesday. The Louisville men also took relief to several hundred families in the low district in the vicinity of Ludlow and Franklin streets. Here the water had reached the roofs of all two story buildings. Only a few of the most desperate cases were brought out, the first move being to leave bread and water in as many places as possible. There had been little hope there would be survivors in this district and the fact that there proved to be few deaths brought hope that the death loss would be lower than was expected.

PUTNAM, OHIO, IN RUINS—RAILROAD STATION COMPLETELY WASHED AWAY

ZANESVILLE, O., March 28.—There is no accurate estimate of the dead but the military insist that it will not exceed 50, although the city authorities are inclined to believe it will be beyond this number. The last estimate is based on the fact that many persons in the seventh ward remained in their houses in the belief that they would suffer no more inconvenience than by the ordinary high water. Many of these houses, however, were swept away and all traces of escape had been cut off. In Putnam the death list is expected to be much larger as many persons declare that the unfortunate people were washed from roofs and porches and where they had been driven by the rapidly rising water several days ago.

Putnam in Ruins

Dawn today showed Putnam to be in ruins. Muskingum avenue and Linden avenue appeared to be washed out and where three days ago stood many residences watchers from the highest

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS."

WHAT GLASSES ARE TO WEAK EYES—CASCARETS ARE TO WEAK BOWELS

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles. So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

Nosco Onion Salt

A new table seasoning that gives the flavor of the onion without the odor in the house. A new condiment that is destined to have wide popularity.

With Nosco Onion Salt you can get the most delicate shades of seasoning, from the faintest hint of onion, to the strong, wholesome and appetizing flavor of a dish of steak and onions. If one member of the family doesn't care for onions the others can enjoy this delightful seasoning without giving offense, and each one have as much of the onion as pleases the individual taste.

TRAINS BEARING FOOD AND CLOTHING FOR SUFFERERS BEING RUSHED TO WEST

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Measures of federal relief for the flood victims of Ohio and Indiana pressed forward today. Secretary Garrison was speeding on a special train toward Cincinnati to take charge as the personal representative of President Wilson. Surge-General Blue of the public health service was pushing toward the district to take sharp measures to head

The Fight Grows Harder and More Bitter

A Great Chance for the Public to Buy at Cut Prices

A piano sale here is always a sacrifice, always a bargain sale, always a mark-down sale. The very nature of the business here is one of sacrifice. The business here is not conducted like the business of a regular piano store where they are expected to make a profit on each piano. We don't let any piano loaf around our floors; a sacrifice for is chopped on which the price of the piano is marked and it is sold to the first wise man or woman for the price marked on the tag. Price cut all makes alike; we ask no favors, we want none, and we give none. In sales like these someone's loss is your gain, the profit is all yours. The best instruments of the world's best makers are in the sacrifice list.

ADRIANOPLE

After a five months' siege the Bulgarians and Servians have silenced the triple ring of forts surrounding the holy city of Adrianople, and taken possession at the point of the bayonet. To fully comprehend the far reaching effects of this brilliant victory one must realize that Adrianople is much more intimately connected with the national life and creed of the Moslem than even the capital city of Constantinople, and its capture will be regarded as the greatest calamity that has fallen on the Turkish army since the beginning of the war, if not since the beginning of Turkish rule in Europe. It will be remembered that it was the demand of the allies for the ceding of this important strategic city which was the signal for a renewal of the struggle in Turkey, and the feeling of fierce fanaticism and grim despair which will make the defense of Adrianople as historically famous almost as its capture. Now it has been plainly demonstrated that the Turks were guilty of the wildest folly, and by centering the flower of their army at Adrianople they have squandered their dwindling stock of energy and the lives of their bravest men in a vain sacrifice which has not been justified by the results. The Turkish despair and hopelessness is borne out by the action of Ghazi Shukri Pasha, the commander, who, when defeated by disease, famine and Bulgarian courage, destroyed the forts and arsenals and set fire to the city as the Bulgarians trooped in, lighting their way by the titanic flames of stores, mosques, and minarets.

It is also reported that the Tchetatja forts must soon yield to bombardment. If this be true it means even a greater victory than the capture of Adrianople, though not so spectacular, for Tchetatja is the key to the capital city and if once in the hands of the Bulgarians their way is clear to Constantinople and the war is necessarily at an end. The terms that seemed so monstrous to sullen Turkey months ago have now been gained by sword and gun instead of diplomatic usage. Turkey has been forced to fight an awful, losing fight, and her crescent has been long obscured by an ominous cloud of blood and gloom. In her helpless struggle not a hand has been raised to her aid by a European power. The great nations have looked calmly on awaiting the issue, while the gallant allied forces, drawn together by a common cause, fought some of the bravest battles of modern times. It is not often that one sees the sympathy of practically the whole world on one side in an international contest, but in this case all Christian nations without exception have given their moral support to the efforts of the allies, and all disinterested peoples will ungrudgingly acknowledge the right of the allies to the spoils of victory. It is to be hoped that the allotment of these spoils will be effected satisfactorily to all, and that the states which have lost so many brave men will feel fully recompensed for the terrible sacrifice, by the gain in territory and religious and political liberty which the end of the war will establish.

PRISON REFORMS

Besides the very important questions of prison schools and an improved prison parole system, advocated by Gov. Foss in his recent message and proposed bill, one of the most important clauses is that which calls on the state prison commission for a report as to the best method of providing institutional accommodation for those who are already in prison, and for the state care of all prisoners in the commonwealth, particularly those who are "defective delinquents" or feeble minded criminals who require far different treatment from that which is accorded to normal prisoners. For such unfortunate individuals a prison sentence has no advantage as their tendency to criminality is inherent and largely due to a physical defect. In its present attitude towards them the prison system of the state is at fault and has no effect in eradicating their evil tendencies, as they relapse into their old habits on the expiration of their sentence when they are turned loose on society.

It seems a great step forward in humanitarian measures in Massachusetts when the chief executive takes official recognition of the fact that we owe a duty to ourselves and to the community which has not yet been put in force. It has long been recognized abroad, and in a lesser degree in some American states, that there is a large class of criminals who do not rightly belong in a jail or a penitentiary, who are to be regarded as irresponsible but who may be made normal by scientific treatment. The full possibilities of reform and correction have never been tested. Governor Foss believes much more can be accomplished on these lines. Recent expert studies of our criminal classes vary as to the percentage of this type among these who are now in our prisons, some asserting that 25 per cent. are in this class, others asserting that the proportion is as high as 60 per cent. The state administration has been noted for its prison reforms, and the proposed measures, if passed, will be among the greatest and most far reaching laws advocated by the governor.

THE FIREARMS BILL

The firearms bill which was killed by the senate a few days ago, after having passed the house, would seem on calmer consideration to have deserved a better fate. It had commended itself to the approval of the district attorney of Suffolk county and some of the highest police officials in the state. Among the best of its provisions were those which would enforce the laws already on the statute books with regard to the sale and carrying of firearms, but it sought further to place responsibility on the seller of firearms by compelling him to seek a thorough identification before he sold revolvers, guns, or ammunition to a stranger. When one reads the daily accounts of the almost countless quarrels in which guns are drawn, particularly among some types of foreigners, it would seem that weapons are obtained too easily under existing laws, and that a law such as was proposed by the discarded firearms bill would do much to better conditions in this respect.

The chief objection to the measure came from military authorities who contended that the bill would make it necessary for officers of the militia, who are required to carry revolvers, to obtain a license before doing so in the future. Although this was stated as a very unnecessary hardship the difficulty does not seem unsurmountable. Even if it compelled the military officers to apply for such legal permits it could be easily done by them without great inconvenience, but instead of discarding the bill because of such an objection it could have been saved by an amending clause by which an exception could have been made in the case of government officials or military men. The growing abuse in the carrying and use of firearms will probably revive the agitation in the near future, and it is not unlikely that the next bill aiming at an improvement in conditions will be framed with a possibility of meeting such an objection as was instrumental in killing the recent measure.

THE GREEK EXODUS

Agents of some western railroads which are under construction, taking advantage of a slight dissatisfaction among the local Greeks with regard to working conditions in some of the Lowell mills, have come here to try to induce a great many of them to leave this city and go westward. When interviewed by local reporters these agents have given very glowing accounts of their probable success. They have declared that thousands of the members of the local colony stand ready to start on what would virtually be an exodus of the Greek people from this city. A few who have been dazzled by the promises of better prospects have declared that they will go because they are dissatisfied with conditions in the mills. We do not believe there is any widespread dissatisfaction among them and the mill men deny the charge of unfairness or discrimination.

A Greek exodus would be detrimental to Lowell at the present time. It must be acknowledged that the local colony has demonstrated that as future citizens their people are very desirable. They are intelligent and law-abiding, and they conform themselves almost immediately to American customs and ideas.

Their readiness to give their lives for the motherland proves that they possess a type of patriotism that should be nurtured on American soil.

PRESIDENT MELLON'S REQUEST

At a recent conference in Boston, President Mellon of the New Haven railroad requested representatives of every branch of organized labor on the roads under his control to come to him personally without fear or hesitation when their grievances were not promptly attended to by the subordinate officials. That he was taken at his word is demonstrated by the present attitude of the brotherhood of railway telegraphers who have been trying vainly for some time to get a wage increase, and who now declare their intention of making a direct appeal to President Mellon. The result will be awaited with interest by the other branches of labor unions on the railroads as well as by the people who are attaching more importance to the statements of the railroad head than they did formerly.

Mrs. Ida D. Lewis died recently at her home in Atlantic City, N. J. Mrs. Lewis was the sister of Mrs. Harbison Thompson, wife of James Harbison Thompson, who of the Waverly hotel, this city. The funeral of Mrs. Lewis was one of the largest ever witnessed in Atlantic City and in the report of her death appearing in an Atlantic City paper, it was stated that more than 1000 people viewed the remains and houses in the neighborhood were decked during the hours of the funeral. The messenger stated that Mrs. Lewis was one of the greatest fraternal women of the city.

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, on account of the 100 per cent. increase in the price of gasoline, plans to supply the automobiles of the city with fuel for oil at wholesale rates.

Green, said Mayor Fitzgerald is the only one who is the sole reason for the rise in gasoline. That is admitted frankly. Well, such incredible greed as that commits me of Sanders.

"Sanders, have another drink," a man said, entering a bar where Mr. Green was just leaving off a glass of whisky.

"No, I've had enough," Sanders replied. "I want to be sober and you can pay for this if you like."

Mrs. Mary McPaul of Summer street has won the first prize in Lowell for the first year, for the past three or four years, and she believes it to be the same prize. This particular prize is the first prize in the Lowell for the first year, for the past three or four years, and she believes it to be the same prize.

"Jim Keene was an optimist," a breaker at the Metropolitan club said of the dead financier, "he was like this Alfred Russell Wallace chap, grumbling about the vice and cruelty and hypocrisy of modern times—declaring the world was worse today than it was 7000 years ago."

"Keene and I once lunched together at a smart Fifth-avenue restaurant, and though our lunch was a simple one, it came to $11. Keene showed the bill to me with a smile, and I said:

"This high cost of living! It certainly cost a lot more to live now than it did when you and I were boys."

"Well," said Keene, "it's worth more."

An American manufacturer who had worked at the success of his German competitors was struck by certain big, flaming, official looking posters on the billboards and around public buildings in Berlin, says Hubert Evans in Harper's Weekly. He noted how similar posters in every town and city in Germany. Twice a year these official posters summon the youth of the land to obligatory attendance at the trade and commercial schools. Indirectly they tell why the American and English manufacturer finds in the German such a dangerous competitor.

The reveal the secret of Germany's wonderful commercial and industrial prosperity, and of her commanding position as a world power. To the philosophically inclined they suggest interesting reflections on the transformation of Germany from a nation of materialists and doers.

There is scarcely anything in all Germany so new to modern as the continuation schools. This whole movement has been a matter of only a few years, and in its present form the continuation school is a child of yesterday. These institutions receive from the nation more care and solid funds than is bestowed upon the children of the imperial family. They are still in a rapid process of change and development. Their very success has encouraged further changes and more stringent legislation in their behalf. It is only a few years ago that an imperial industrial law was passed giving communities authority to establish and maintain obligatory continuation schools for youths, thus making good the failure of certain German state governments to provide for such schools by state law.

One of the last acts of the old Reichstag last December was to amend this law so as to make it apply to all cities employed in offices, stores, and factories as well as to schools. The whole subject is still so new and fresh that every day the German press has some interesting item of continuation school news—the opening of more domestic science schools for girls, the establishment of training colleges for continuation school teachers, the publication of new laws and ministerial decisions.

What is our love, when all is said? Is it a pang of the heart or head, Or is it a thrub of the soul instead?

Born in a minute, an hour, a day; Born to be master, to force, to sway; Born to be humble, to serve, to obey.

Is it a spark which has burst to flame At the touch of hands, a remembered name? The heat from another fire that came?

Is it the grope of the lonely soul, That feels for its place in the world while whole? That needs its mate as the needs call?

What is our love? Is it dead or dead? Do we need its solace, joy or pain, To fill our lives for the earth-long strain?

Tell us, you who all wise things know, Why need we love in this vale below? Is it flesh or soul that we clasp it so?

LOVE'S TOMORROW
Tomorrow is a dreamy reverie, a castle in the air; A purple mist, alas! I cannot find it anywhere.

I never count it on the rosary of my years, Only for today I have and hold all joys and fears.

Yesterday, I said I loved you, and again today; But tomorrow you ask—Ah! that I cannot say.

I only vowed that ever, beside Tomorrow's open door, Your voice shall sing to me in love forevermore.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

On the Job

North Adams Transcript: The country is now to be exposed to foreign peril through the change of administration. If Mr. Garrison, the new secretary of war, has his way, he calls for the "immediate" preparation of the military forces of the United States to meet any emergency."

What Is Sausage?

Worcester Telegram: The department of agriculture of the United States government is to tell meat packers in court this week what a sausage is. The information is important to the packers, because the department has issued an order under the pure food law which says there shall not be more than two per cent. of cereal and three per cent. of water in a sausage.

Fair to All

Lawrence Eagle: While the New York Yacht club may be right technically the majority of sport-loving people will wish that those in authority were not quite so exacting in their demands from St. Thomas Lipton. The latter is one of the acknowledged sportsmen of the world and his side of the case in the present instance looks both reasonable and fair to all.

Our "Patriots"

New Bedford Times: It is stated that 12,520 persons have applied for the 10,000 jobs in the gift of the new administration.

One view of the situation would be that there is no dearth of patriotism in this country. When there are over 120,000 more men eager to serve the nation than there are places for, it cannot be charged that there is any indication that devotion to public duty is at all indifferent. Uncle Sam need not worry lest there cannot be found volunteers for every office, in spite of the fact that up to date President Wilson has failed to find an ambassador to the court of St. James.

Not Misled

Fall River Globe: Huntington Wilson, who "chucked his job" as assistant secretary of state, in high dudgeon the other day and in doing so read President Wilson's 1000-word lecture on the latter's violation of official ethics in presuming to decide the policy of the administration on the Chinese question, after he had been consulted with this self-sufficient subordinate, must be surprised to find the machinery of the government still running quite as smoothly as it was before he quit. The hole left in the state department by his sudden exit is like the one made by a stone that is cast into the water. You can't find it.

Current Events

Lowell Sun: The news from the overwhelmed cities of Ohio and Indiana is so painfully absorbing that it is not easy to give full value to the news from the Balkans.

The capture of Adrianople by assault is a great event. The loss of life may prove to be far greater than the loss of life by our floods. If the report is true that the city is burning and fighting is hot up in the state department the victorious Bulgarians, the suffering will be far greater.

The capture of Tchetatja fortifications means peace soon or the fall of Constantinople.

The Fire Horse

New York World: With proper pomp and circumstance was celebrated yesterday the opening of 10 new engine houses, all provided with automobile fire apparatus. But to how many will it stand as a day of regret for the passing of that popular hero, the fire horse? No screaming automobile can ever fill his place. No soulless machine can ever appeal to the affections like the friendly old pet.

The old fire engine drawn by three horses at full gallop and tugging at their bits is a picturesque spectacle of the streets that no one could ever see and forget. No German circus race at the circus was ever half so thrilling as the sight of three matched teams charging down crowded Broadway, in and out of traffic, with tons of shining brass and steel at their heels.

When engine houses became mere garages and men spend their time talking about differentials and car starters and no longer are there any over the chain of his steel for his lunch of sugar or an apple, New York will be a different place.

THE CHESTNUT BLIGHT

Another Evil That Affects Our Woodlands Where the Chestnut Tree Abounds

Remember that the state, in co-operation with the United States government, stands ready at no expense to the owner to assist in determining if the disease is present, and advise you as to the best means of combating it.

Numbers of owners have already taken advantage of this opportunity, but there are many more who have not. Do not blame your forester if you miss this chance. The work will go on as long as there is a demand for it, but the government aid may be withdrawn July 1. After that the owner will have to pay the traveling expenses of the examiner.

Blank applications for examination of chestnut woodland may be secured upon request to the state forester, 6 Beacon street, Boston. Send for yours now.

Applications will be filed in the order of receipt, and the examinations made as soon after as possible.

Do you buy or sell chestnut lumber? Write to the state forester. He has established a clearing house for chestnut products.

Have you merchantable chestnut timber? He will tell you where you can and the best market for it.

If you need chestnut lumber in your business? He will tell you where you can buy it in this state.

A New Suit Free

That Is the Unconditional Guarantee That Goes With The Putnam Guaranteed Suit For $15.00.

This suit proposition of ours is full of human interest. It concerns vitally the majority of men who buy clothing. We do not expect it to appeal to the man who is in the habit of paying from fifty to sixty dollars to the merchant tailor for a suit to measure, nor to the man who has been buying our Rogers-Peet clothing for twenty or more dollars a suit.

Our purpose is to take better care of the thousands of men who have been paying around $15.00 for a suit—to give them better suits for this price than they ever bought before—suits that are as stylish, that fit as well, and that look as well as suits for which they are asked to pay a much higher price.

All of this we do and—WE DO MORE. We sell you a suit for $15.00 and warrant it to wear to YOUR satisfaction. If for any reason it fails to give you the service you expected it would give, bring back the suit—and

WE WILL GIVE YOU A NEW SUIT FREE

You can't beat that—Nobody can beat it. We know the kind of suits we are selling or we would not make this bold offer.

You Are Going To Be Surprised when you see the new models and new fabrics and colorings in this spring offering of $15.00 guaranteed suits.

The First Application of ZEMO Will Stop Itching Instantly. It Is Guaranteed.

Dandruff is nothing but scalp eczema, and that's why ZEMO stops dandruff absolutely.

For the terrible raw, fiery eczema that drives you wild, keeps you awake nearly all night, for rash, prickly heat and all inflamed, reddened skin on babies or grown-ups, for itching piles, salt rheum, for rawness after shaving, for any and all sores, ZEMO is a revelation.

ZEMO is not a greasy ointment or paste, but a clean, antiseptic solution applied to the skin. Try a bottle today—and your torture is over. ZEMO will cure any case of eczema if used according to directions. Dr. G. H. Johnson, Quannah, Texas, writes: "I have used ZEMO for years and it is a sealed bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. W. Rose Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo."

York of the head of a large dressmaking concern.

Terrence L. Shevlin, former deputy collector of customs and now a clerk in the Boston customs house, and his wife, Annie W. Shevlin, were arrested here by Deputy United States marshals, charged with having conspired to defraud the government of duty on imported women's gowns valued at approximately $1,000.

Miss Kate Brennan of New York, head of the dressmaking firm of Donovan & Co., a large importing concern, was arrested in that city.

According to the government attorneys prosecuting the case, the total of the alleged frauds is expected to exceed $5,000,000. Bail in the case of Shevlin was fixed at $200, and in the Boston cases at $200. Further arrests are expected to follow.

Shevlin was arrested at his desk in the custom house. His wife was asked to come to Boston from the Shevlin home in Somerville, and when she reached the Federal building was arrested in the corridor. Mrs. Shevlin was allowed to go on her own recognizance until today, when she must furnish security. The woman was represented by counsel, but Shevlin had no attorney and in default of bail was taken to East Cambridge jail.

False Name on Trunk

Customs officials and special treasury agents have been at work on the case since March 17, when Deputy Surveyor Moses Mann, at the Cunard wharf, prevented a trunk bearing the name of M. Z. Ellison from being removed by a truckman to the South street wharf. The trunk had been apparently marked, examined and passed. The sticker was of an old and abandoned issue, and the name of the inspector set forth on the sticker was a forgery. The trunk had been on board the Carpathia, the steamer from which the trunk was taken. Deputy Collector Mann went to New York and the trail led to the dressmaking establishment of C. Donovan & Co.

The house of Donovan was raided and thousands of dollars worth of imported Parisian gowns found, for which the concern could show no receipts for the payment of duty. It developed that Miss Brennan was a passenger on the Carpathia, and that she sailed from Liverpool to Boston under the name of Katherine Thomas. Miss Brennan was summoned to appear before United States Attorney Wise in New York and it is said that the information she gave led to the arrests of Shevlin and his wife. It is believed that the smuggling in this

PIMPLES MADE FACE LOOK BADLY

On Forehead and Chin, Feasted and Came to Head, Looked Like Boils, Painful at Times, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

General Delivery, Bethel, Conn.—"I had been troubled with a few pimples of long standing on the forehead and chin, but something like a year ago they spread to other parts of my face and grew so many and looked so red they made my face look very badly. At times I was almost ashamed of myself. The pimples feasted and came to a head. Some were so large that they almost looked like boils. They would burst and were painful at times, so when I scratched them they would become sore and when healed would leave a scar. When things they caused me to keep awake."

"I tried different remedies for the skin, such as—Soap, Soap and Soap, also different kinds of creams, and—without relief. I had almost given myself up to believe that nothing would help when I saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a sample. In two weeks' time I saw an improvement. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in five months had a complete cure with a fair skin that anyone would be proud of." (Signed) Miss Gertrude Harris, Oct. 22, 1912.

Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold everywhere. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

case has been going on for five years.

At least and that the government has lost approximately $75,000 duty.

Customs officials admit that there were others in the conspiracy besides those arrested.

It was not intended to make arrests in the case for a month yet, in view of the far reaching investigation, but the action was precipitated when a government official talked too freely in New York.

As to the method taken by Shevlin and his wife, the government officials will say very little. It is hinted that Shevlin, who of late has been clerk in the inward foreign department at $1000 per year, is charged with putting the label on the trunk himself or giving it to some one to do so. The wife, it is said, is charged with having been a "go-between," although Asst.-Dist. Atty. Garland declines to state what part she is accused of having played in the conspiracy.

Shevlin has been in the customs service more than 20 years. While acting as deputy collector of customs he received a shock and, after partial recovery, he was put in position of less importance because of his physical condition at a salary of $1500.

year ago he was demoted again and put on a salary of $1000.

Do Not Worry About Your Heart

That pain around your heart means pressure of gas, the result of indigestion. It does not mean heart disease. Pain in the region of the heart is almost never present in organic heart trouble.

Improper food or too much food or a weak stomach are to blame for those alarming pains. The food lies undigested in the stomach and ferments. The acids of fermentation cause four risings in the throat, the lungs become coated, the gases press on the heart and other organs. The sufferer becomes weak and without ambition, is frequently dizzy and faint.

Strength for the stomach is the one thing needed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, one after each meal, and a little care in the diet, will quickly restore you to health and comfort. As they strengthen the stomach to do the work required of it, a healthy appetite is soon produced, the food does not distress you, there is no trouble with gas, the pains in the chest and back disappear and strength and energy return.

This is the tonic treatment for indigestion and you can begin it today and start on the road to health by getting a box of

EXPLOSION OF BOMB

Caused Excitement at Tech Laboratory

BOSTON, March 28.—During an experiment in which he sought to demonstrate that sodium sulphide might be made by a different process than that usually employed, Charles Lester Burdick, a Technology student, caused an explosion in the Rogers building laboratory, yesterday, which endangered the lives of several persons and threw a large section of Baylston street into a state of terror.

They had no power done so than the bomb, which was lying on a sink, exploded with a deafening report, blighting forth red flame and dense clouds of whitish vapor. Fragments of the bomb's shell, composed of cast iron, were hurled with terrific force in every direction and were embedded in the walls. The sink was destroyed and a window above it was blown to atoms.

A two-inch water pipe was burst open, and water pouring from it added to the havoc wrought in the laboratory.

The report caused consternation among the students in the recreation rooms above and there was a rush to the street. In the meanwhile, persons passing on Baylston street were much alarmed and the traffic policeman on duty at Berkeley and Clarendon streets rushed toward the Rogers building in the belief that some one had thrown a bomb. The matter was soon explained.

Several days ago Prof. Hayward called upon the students to write a thesis with regard to sodium sulphide. Burdick did so and yesterday sought to prove that he could make the substance in a new way. He filled a bomb with sodium and sulphur and placed it in a furnace, working upon the assumption that the two matters would become soluble when heated sufficiently. When the bomb had rested in the furnace for a considerable time, he withdrew it and placed it on the sink to cool. A few minutes later the explosion occurred.

Burdick's home is in Des Moines, Ia.

HEAVY GALE IN R. I.

Woman Blown in Street Has Fractured Neck

PROVIDENCE, March 28.—A furious southerly gale swept Rhode Island yesterday. It blew 55 miles an hour in Providence.

In 15 minutes yesterday afternoon it rained a full inch and several barges dragged anchor down the bay. The heat steamers abandoned their trips for the day.

At Quonsetpoint the gale swept the huge breakers on the beach and forced the shore line back 10 feet more from where it stopped in the gales during December and early January. None of the cottages which were moved back at that time were affected.

At Fort Mansfield, about 25 feet of the heavy sea wall was washed into the sea, the big masonry being tossed about like pebbles. A storehouse was undermined and a squad of 24 men, with an officer, was hurried over from Providence to check the spread of the damage, if possible.

Many small craft are ashore on both sides of Narragansett Bay. The molting room of the Stillman White Foundry company at Charles and Park streets was wrecked by the fall of a 10-foot chimney.

James H. Merrigan, the only man in the room at the time, had a narrow escape from death under the mass of brick, slate and machinery, which crashed down all about him. Eleven men had left the room five minutes before the crash. Water front men said the blow was the worst since the sale of September, 1890.

Miss M. Louise Summer of 3 Charles field street was picked up badly by the gale and thrown to the sidewalk on Westminster street yesterday afternoon, suffering a fracture of the neck and her right leg. Citizens assisted Miss Summer to her feet, but she was unable to walk. She was taken into a store and an ambulance was called.

Morris Mandel, aged 18, of 339 North Main street, was cut on the head by a large pane of glass blown from a window in the fourth story of a Westminster street store. He narrowly escaped bleeding to death.

The judges of the characters were Mrs. C. O. Leadbetter, Mrs. G. R. Myers and Mr. E. S. Buckford. Prizes were awarded Lillie Swanson, Gladys Arnold, John McQuesten and Earl Leadbetter.

MANY LIVES SNUFFED OUT WHEN CYCLONE DEMOLISHED IDLEWILD HALL IN OMAHA

CYCLONE RUINS OF IDLEWILD HALL
24TH AND LAKE STS. OMAHA, WHERE MANY WERE KILLED.
© 1913 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Idlewild Hall, at Twenty-fourth and Lake streets, Omaha, crashed down upon the heads of many occupants when the cyclone rushed over the city. Nearly a score were killed. The picture shows the scene at the ruins the day after the disaster. Searchers dug frantically in the debris to recover the bodies. Many buildings in the path of the storm were smashed in this manner. The men in this hall were horribly crushed.

CATCHING THE WHALE

Members of Cong. Club
Hear Interesting Story

The regular monthly meeting and dinner of the men's club of the First Congregational church was held last night in the church parlor.

The speaker of the evening was Rep. Benjamin Sharpe of Nantucket. He was introduced by Rep. Odis Butler. Mr. Sharpe gave a very interesting talk on whaling in the old days. He is not only a doctor of medicine, but also a doctor of philosophy. He is a naturalist by profession and has made whaling his special subject.

He opened his address with a brief and comprehensive history of the early days of whaling and down to the days when Nantucket became the whaling center of the world, in the period from 1820 to 1830. He told of the island at that time, its shipping, manufactures of sails and rigging, harpoons and other tackle for securing whales, and of the immense traffic in whale oil which was sent to all parts of the world from this little island.

He next took up the life on shipboard in those days, the perils to which the crews were subjected, the discovery of the whaling grounds near the Fiji Islands and of the crews which were wrecked on this group of islands and eaten by the natives. He also told of the methods of catching whales, the simplest one being to allow the whale to swallow the boat's anchor and haul it out to sea in the night time as happened to one Nantucket sloop. Another method was that of catching them in immense nets as the inhabitants of Japan and New Zealand still do. The third method was by the harpoon, the method used by the Nantucket Islanders.

He closed his address with an interesting account of the slang and picturesque metaphors of the Nantucket fishers and of their life on shipboard and at home on the island.

High Street Church

The vestry of the High Street Congregational church was the scene, last night, of the annual banquet of the Sunday school of that church. About 100 teachers, officers and members of the school were present. At 6:30 a fine supper was served under the direction of Mrs. F. R. Woodward, assisted by members of the Ladies Aid society.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Centralville Methodist church held its regular monthly social and supper last evening in the church vestry. Supper was served at 6:30 o'clock, and was followed by an entertainment program. Rev. J. T. Carlson, pastor of the church, gave an interesting lecture on the "Copper Regions of Northern Michigan." Miss Hester Taylor gave several selections on the violin.

The officers of the Ladies' Aid society are as follows: President, Mrs. Russell Fox; vice-president, Mrs. Pearl Kinney; secretary, Mrs. Walter Sidell; and treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Gregory.

The members of the dining-room committee were: Mrs. A. E. Gregory, Mrs. Irving D. Kimball, Mrs. A. L. Hiser, and Mrs. Wotton. The kitchen committee was as follows: Mrs. J. Jenkins, Mrs. R. Nerney and Mrs. W. H. Taylor.

Among the visitors present at the supper was Mrs. Hoyt of Stoneham, a former secretary of the society.

The annual meeting of the society will be held Wednesday, April 18, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Gregory, 41 Nineteenth street. The election of officers and the reading of the annual reports will be among the affairs transacted.

First home run of the season. Who will be the lucky fan to get the base hit? Reason ticket at the Foresters' game, tonight, Lincoln hall.

CLASS INITIATION HELD

Royal Arcanum Councils
Met Last Night

Over 300 people attended the union meeting and initiation of the Royal Arcanum councils of this city and Lawrence which was held in Mathew hall in Dutton street last evening. Thirty-three candidates were initiated, 15 of whom were from Highland council, under whose auspices the initiation was held. There were eight from Industry council, four from Lowell council, No. 8, whose degree team performed the initiation, four from Lawrence councils and two from Rockham council.

Highland council took the prize for enrolling the largest number and Industry council took second place.

The toastmaster of the evening was A. G. Walsh, and among the speakers were Grand Regent James F. Wise of Boston, and Grand Orator E. Edgar Seating of Stockbridge. Both talked along congratulatory lines and were well pleased with the evening's program. The large class was initiated by the degree staff of Lowell council, and the manner in which the work was conducted was very interesting. A feature of the evening's excellent entertainment was selections by the Lowell Council quartet. There was a large delegation from Lawrence.

BURKE-WELCH

The marriage of Mr. James Burke and Miss Annie M. Welch took place at the Immaculate Conception rectory Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Fr. Tighe officiated. Mr. William Maher, a cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man and the bridemaid was Miss Margaret O'Leary, a cousin of the bride. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 9 Chestnut street. Mr. and Mrs. Burke left at 7:30 for New York and they will be at home to their friends after May 1st.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Thomas C. Sullivan and Miss Katherine Donovan was solemnized Wednesday evening at St. Columba's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. John Degan, pastor. The best man was Dr. William Sullivan of Manchester, N. H., while the bridemaid was Miss Helen Donovan. A dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, 10 Varnum avenue, followed by a reception. The young couple

THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Much Opposition to Bill Giving the Board Full Authority to Enforce Its Orders

At the state house, yesterday, much opposition was expressed to the bill to give the state board of health full authority and police powers to enforce its orders, especially those relating to tuberculosis, which came before the committee on public health.

The opponents, who represented the Boston Society for the Relief of Tuberculosis and the National League for Medical Freedom, argued that the bill is impracticable on account of the immense appropriation it carries and unwise in that it substitutes mandatory power for the present concurrent authority of the state board of health over the local and city boards.

Dr. Charles B. Putnam said the most effective results in the fight against tuberculosis may be gained by training the local bodies to enter the fight. He feared the bill would discourage local authorities. Seymour H. Stone, secretary of the society, also opposed the bill because of the great expense.

Albert S. Aspley, argued for the National League of Medical Science that the bill would give the state board of health more power than has ever been conferred on any board or commission in the United States.

To Aid Foreigners

Gov. Foss yesterday sent to the legislature a message endorsing the recommendations of the free public library commission relating to literary work for foreigners. "The assimilation of our foreign population," he said, "cannot proceed effectively unless they are brought into sympathy with and given an understanding of the aims and purposes of our democracy."

"For the protection of society and particularly for the protection of our laboring population, including the foreigners themselves, we must not omit any reasonable measure for the proper education and training of the foreigner who makes his home in Massachusetts. I need not dwell upon the obvious gravity of the situation, nor do I consider the present measure in itself sufficient to meet all the requirements of the situation, but I earnestly request of the legislature that it accord the Free Public Library the very moderate extension which it now seeks."

Liquor Bills Considered

Three liquor bills were before the committee on legal affairs yesterday. John L. Donovan's bill for an unlimited number of licenses was opposed by Leon S. Baldwin of the Anti-Saloon League.

Representative John F. McCarthy's bill, which provides for the sale of liquor in public dining rooms between midnight and 4 a. m. on special holidays, particularly New Year's, was also opposed by Mr. Baldwin, who considered the 12 o'clock privilege now granted to hotels adequate.

Corporation Counsel J. L. Pratt opposed the bill of Charles S. Lawler, which provides that the total number of licenses in Boston shall be issued before Sept. 1 in each year, if there are applications for the Corporation Counsel Corbett argued that the licensing board ought to have some latitude in the matter.

Killed Pension Bill

The house yesterday killed the Boston teachers' pension bill, providing that the tax levied for teachers' pensions in Boston should be reduced from 7 cents per $100 of valuation to 6 cents and that the maximum pension should be $1000 instead of $600.

The house also rejected the bill to increase the salary of the judges of probate in Plymouth county after a spirited debate.

The Washburn Bill

Without a recorded dissent, the committee on railroads reported the Washburn bill creating a new commission to be known as "the public transportation commission" by increasing the membership of the present railroad commission from three to five and giving the new board supervision over the telephone and telegraph business as well as over railroads and railways.

No Check on Morley

The house postponed for a year the proposal requiring persons moving their furniture to notify public officials. A new draft of the bill requiring one day's rest in seven to employees will be brought in and consideration was postponed for a week.

The house passed to be engrossed a bill requiring the use of sanitary cloths in cleaning printing presses, but refused to attach a penalty of $50.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House

There remain only four more performances of "Zaza" to be given by the Loneragan Players at the Opera House and next week this company will be seen in a production of James Hackett's new play, "The Confession." This play was first produced with success at the Bijou theatre, New York city and later toured the country, appearing at the Opera House only last fall for one performance.

BOSTON OPERA STARS COMING

An appearance here at the Opera House on May 1, 1913, by the Gauthier, Mlle. Florence de Courcy and other stars of the Boston Opera Company is scheduled for an early date. The program will consist of condensed versions of "Faust" and "Mazurka," the latter in English, the third act from "Rigoletto" and the rendition of the great sextette from "Lucia de Lammermoor."

THE COUNTRY BOY

In "The Country Boy," which the Henry B. Harris estate brings to the Opera House, April 18, the author has embodied all the attributes of perfect comedy. The humor is clean and sparkling and pervades every act; the heart interest is well developed and the plot is a delineation of a character well known in every day life. A young man with the optimism of his years sets out to show the folks back home that he is capable of the big things he has dreamed about, and which he thinks are incapable of attainment anywhere but in the great metropolis. The play is a comedy through the third degree, and he finally gives up in despair and goes back home, where he makes the name for himself that he believed he could only make in the great city, and he wins back the love of the sweetheart of his childhood, whom he had lost through his behavior in New York city.

Keith's

New and startling effects in the Thomas A. Edison talking motion pictures will be shown at the R. F. Keith theatre, next week, when "The Temptation of Peter" is shown. With this will be two other subjects. This week's bill, headed by the first talking motion pictures bearing Thomas Edison's name, ever shown locally, is proving a very big drawing card, despite the inclemency of the weather. "Train 41," one of the best of the mechanically effective melodramas, holds a high place in the esteem of vaudeville goers, and "William Thompson and Copeland," in "The Burglar's Union," have a sterling fancy comedy. John Geiger, the man with the violin, is another slum pure winner for pleasing and entertaining. The "Temptation of Peter" is a story of the life and death of a man who, with the aid of his most charming characters, while the remaining members of the company are also seen to special advantage. The piece is very cleverly staged, and the story of "The Temptation of Peter" will be given at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon and considering the Irish demonstration, should be the destination of many, or it is sure to please. Next week the attraction will be "The Temptation of Peter," a highly dramatic offering. Tickets for the performance this week are on sale at the box office, telephone 311.

The Playhouse

Two performances today and two tomorrow, are the remaining opportunities of seeing the drama "The Temptation of Peter" at the Playhouse. The play, which is a story of the life and death of a man who, with the aid of his most charming characters, while the remaining members of the company are also seen to special advantage. The piece is very cleverly staged, and the story of "The Temptation of Peter" will be given at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon and considering the Irish demonstration, should be the destination of many, or it is sure to please. Next week the attraction will be "The Temptation of Peter," a highly dramatic offering. Tickets for the performance this week are on sale at the box office, telephone 311.

Danger of Catarrh

Unless Properly Treated With HYOMEI, the Disease Becomes Serious

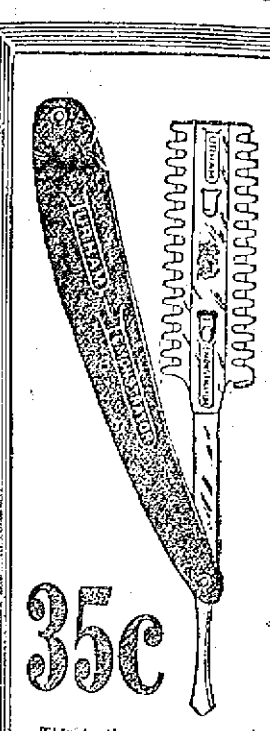

Catarrhal troubles are far more dangerous than they seem at first thought. If you have catarrh, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane and weakened tissues which afford an ideal lodgment and culture medium for disease germs, especially those of consumption.

You should get cured as quickly as possible before any dangerous germs that you may breathe lodge on the diseased tissue and work destruction in the throat and lungs.

The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by the direct method, breathing HYOMEI. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed in through the HYOMEI inhaler, directly following and destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled, and healing and vitalizing the tissues of the throat, nose and lungs so as to render catarrh and all other germ infections no longer possible.

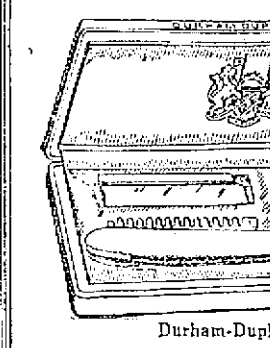

The unusual way in which HYOMEI is sold by druggists is the best evidence of confidence in the treatment and should dispel all doubts as to its curative properties. They are authorized to return the purchase price to anyone whom HYOMEI fails to benefit, so you do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues. A complete outfit costs but $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid if later needed, 50 cents.

Sold by Carter & Sherburne and druggists everywhere.

Merriam Square Theatre

There remain but a few more opportunities to witness the all star program which is being presented at the Merriam Square Theatre this week. The Talking Moving Pictures of course are the headline feature and all this week the theatre has been crowded by anxious patrons curious to see and hear for themselves the newest features in the amusement circles. They have seen and heard and declare "they couldn't possibly be better." Next week they will be retained and will present an entire change of subjects. Among them will be the famous speech of Father Henry. They will be surrounded on the coming week as they are on this by an all star vaudeville program.

Theatre Voyons

Quite appropriate for the celebration of St. Patrick's day is the program at the Theatre Voyons, the motion picture "Rathbun's Blarney" is a story of a man who, with the aid of his most charming characters, while the remaining members of the company are also seen to special advantage. The piece is very cleverly staged, and the story of "The Temptation of Peter" will be given at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon and considering the Irish demonstration, should be the destination of many, or it is sure to please. Next week the attraction will be "The Temptation of Peter," a highly dramatic offering. Tickets for the performance this week are on sale at the box office, telephone 311.

The Casino

Saturday is always the best day of the week—when you go to the Casino. All conditions required for roller skating at its best are always found at this resort. A big surface, hard wood boards free from corners, a first class band, and a Casino management. There is only one real roller standard. Rushing sessions are held afternoon and evening.

Supper and Entertainment

The Ladies Aid society of the Highland Congregational church held their regular monthly supper and entertainment in the church vestry last night. The affair was largely attended and was a great success.

Following the supper, an entertainment by the Junior Christian Endeavor society was given under the direction of Mrs. Hugh McPherson. Orchestral music was played by Mrs. Evelyn Wentworth, Miss Ruth Whitehead and Miss Bertha Russell. William and Catherine Kallach gave a character song entitled "School Days" and Miss Ruth Turner entertained with readings.

Mrs. Fred Ingham had general charge of the supper and she was assisted by the following committee: Miss Cora Burdick, Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. Fred Butler, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Gordon Bickel, Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, Mrs. Clifford, Mrs. Howard Chase, Miss Florence Evans, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Florence, Mrs. Hodges, Miss Dortha Halstead, Mrs. Carrie Ingham, Mrs. Lamberton, Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Sanborn, Mrs. C. GOULD QUILTS AMERICA

NEW YORK, March 28.—Frank J. Gould sailed for Paris yesterday, probably not to return to America. He said he was disgusted with the way the United States government interfered with business in this country, and that he preferred to live in France.

Sailing with him were his wife and the three Misses Kelly, her sisters.

In continuing his grievance against things American, Mr. Gould pointed out that racing had practically been abolished here, while it flourished like a green bay tree in the fair land of France. In that country, he said, the government does all it can to aid business men and farmers, and attracted the attention of the reporters to the green ribbon he wore in his buttonhole.

This, Mr. Gould explained, was the ribbon of the order Merite Agricole, conferred upon him by the French minister of agriculture for the cultivation of his farm near Paris, on which his racing horses are kept. When he spoke of the artichokes grown on that French farm, the young millionaire became almost enthusiastic in his description.

Mrs. Gould and her three sisters joined in the enthusiasm, and lost the pessimistic air they wore while Mr.

Gould was discussing the defects in the government of his own country.

"Long ago," said Mr. Gould, "I took up my residence in France, although my domicile is in the United States." The Gould stable near Paris are estimated to have cost $350,000, and when the owner came here in August, 1911, he said that he had won $75,000 in races this season. On Christmas the same year he presented his wife, who was Edith Kelly, a show girl, before he married her in Scotland in 1910, a pearl necklace worth $500,000, which consisted of two strands of perfectly graduated pearls.

Another passenger on the "France" was Mrs. D. J. Wood, who arrived from Nice some weeks ago with a pet poodle, Arlene, which was looked after by a chef and a maid and had a cabin to itself. Mrs. Wood said that the main reason in going back to France so soon was that she could have Arlene near her, as she is very temperamental and the variable climate of New York does not suit the delicate aristocratic poodle.

CLEANS THE HAIR AND MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

IN A FEW MOMENTS YOUR HAIR LOOKS SOFT FLUFFY, LUSTROUS AND ABUNDANT—NO FALLING HAIR OR DANDRUFF.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excess oil. In a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

"BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER"

Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Thinness of the blood, or anemia, is common to young folks as well as old. Especially is it the case with those who work in city ventilated factories—or those who are shut indoors in winter time with a cold stove burning to the oven or emitting carbonic (toxic) gas. This blood, or blood which lacks the red blood corpuscles, in anemic people may have been caused by lack of good fresh air breathed into lungs, or by poor digestion or indigestion. Sometimes people suffer later pains over the heart which is not heart disease at all, but caused by indigestion. Whatever the cause, there's just one remedy that you can turn to—knowing that it has given satisfaction for over 40 years.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY is a blood purifier and alterative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus builds the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and vigorous instead of tired, weak and faint. Nowadays you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Tablets, as well as all liquid form from all medicine dealers, or tablets by mail, prepaid in $1 or 50c size. Address R. V. Pierce, M. Waters Diminished Today

SPRINGFIELD, March 28.—The Connecticut river, which yesterday had almost reached its crest and was endangering the lowlands surrounding this city, felt several inches during the night. Fears that had been entertained regarding the safety of the bridge near this city were allayed this morning when the waters began to diminish.

Vogue of Paper Napery
The vogue of paper napery has been of very gradual growth mainly because of its use in cheap restaurants, but conditions which modern ways of living have imposed upon the housewife have given paper napery a steadily increasing vogue. Both the wealthy and the poor are turning to it as a substitute for the more expensive and more useful cloth napery. Even in places where daily living continues on its usual lines these naperys are gradually making their way. They are beginning to be much used for breakfast, especially in summer, to save the napery from fruit stains, and both they and paper tablecloths are in demand for children's parties. The naperys are made in three sizes, in plain white and with borders of various colors, and they may be bought at retail from 10 to 50 cents a hundred, according to the size and quality. The paper tablecloth looks neither cheap or ugly. It is not made of crumpled paper, but is smooth and peaty white and of a very soft texture in drape and pattern. A lunch table draped with it is dainty and attractive. The most usual size is about 4 to 5 feet, and it costs 15 cents about the average price for the laundering of a linen cloth of the same size. Paper towels are also used in many public schools, and sanitary handkerchiefs, for use and not at all ornamental, have been very successful.

HOLD POSITIONS LONGEST Veteran Pitchers Are in Majority

Of the players now in the big league baseball arena more veterans are to be found among the pitchers than in any other position. The pitcher works a good deal harder than the occupant of any other position, but he doesn't play so often, and besides, there are more of him. It isn't surprising that there are more veteran pitchers than anything else, considering that each club carries at least half a dozen pitchers. It was a twister, Cy Young, who became a veteran of veterans, whereas such old timers as Powell, Mathewson, Mullin and Plank are still in the game. Now are Wilkes, Bender, Moore, Hughes and White in the spring chicken class. Behind the bat as such list of veterans can be found doing duty: George Kling, Brennan and Posol. Even Egan at it a good while. The backstop position has produced several veterans who were veterans indeed, such as McGuire, Farrell, Crizer, Sullivan, and in the old days Flail. If chance plays first this season he will be the oldest man at the position. Melillo, Ludger, Daubert, Hoblitzel, Miller, Kautsky, Saler, Chase, Barton, O'Brien, Mettines, J. Collins and Stovall are all comparative youngsters. So far, too, too, is held down mostly by young players: Doyle, Cuthaw, Seaver, Ryan, Knolls, Butler, Yerkes, Bath, Pratt, E. Collins and Yokum cannot be called old timers. Huggins and Egan are the veterans of the lot. At short the veterans are more prominent. Heine and Homer Wagner, Tinker, Wallace, McBride, Birdwell, McMillan and Doolan are well stationed.

Barry and Bush are not exactly newcomers, just between and between. Fletcher, Fisher, Hauser, Olson and Weaver represent the younger element. Turner is a player of long service at third, albeit most of his time has been put in at short, and Byrne, Devlin and Lobert have been on hand some time. Heizinger hasn't played long enough to be called an old timer, neither have Baker, Gardner, Mowrey or Moriarty, Smith, Phelan, Austin, Foster, Dolan, Zimmerman, Midkiff and Foster. Dolan, Zimmerman, Midkiff and Foster have most of their career ahead of them.

When Fred Clarke quit active playing the ranks of the veteran outfielders was thinned out. Leach is still left in the veteran class, as are Crawford and Sheekard, Murray, Titus, S. Magee, Mitchell, Melstyre, Schultz, Wilson, D. Murphy and Donlin have been around a considerable length of years. As for Snodgrass, Devore, L. Magee, Oakes, Ellis, Evans, Carey, Wheat, Moran, Northern, Campbell, Jackson, Faskert, Marsans, Becher, Millan, Oldring, Strunk, Mueller, Shanks, Ryan, Grauey, Birmingham, Cree, Daniels, Speaker, Lewis, Hooper, Cobb and several others none dates back so far that he oughtn't to have a goodly part of his career ahead of him.

THE ENGLISH STROKE Being Used by College Crews

The American stroke used today by many college crews is nothing more than the English stroke, adapted by men like Courtney and Rice to the conditions prevailing here, says an eastern rowing authority. The English stroke of some years ago, with its long body swing, was tried here by Lehigh at Harvard and pretty nearly ruined the crew. The men were not able to stand the terrific strain on the stomach muscles, as the English rowers, who had been brought up in that style of rowing from schoolboys, and they failed to get their living. Rice and Courtney both preferred the shorter swing and the longer leg drive as learned in their days of sculling. A well known coach said recently there was no reason why the professional sculler should not adopt the best stroke. In his racing days he was confronted with the proposition of winning in order to get his living. He went into the game in earnest and used his best efforts in trying to produce a stroke which took as little as possible out of him to produce the best results. His head depended upon it. Another coach if it appeals to him as a rule. The professional today teaches the college men the stroke which he worked out in years of hard practice and he knew how to take advantage of every opportunity. He was not guessing, he knew. Further than this, he is still learning and never neglects a chance to pick up anything new. The English stroke is a monopoly in this respect for there are college crews in this country, and good ones, too, that begin on the fixed seats, but on rowing machines. Candidates get a couple of weeks on the machines until their blade work is right, and they get into something like a swing. Then the sliding seats are given them, and they have to pull against light weights until their form approaches that which is sought for, and after that the weights are increased until they go out on the water, when it is just about what the men would get in the river. There is no haphazard work in this. It is all calculated out beforehand, and when the men get into the boats all they have to do is to learn to balance, and then they are gradually rounded into shape. Outside of the greater length of time on the fixed seats there is really little difference between the training here and in England.

THOSE SCHOOL STEPS Com. Cummings Will Not Pay for Them

Dennis Harrington, janitor of the Moody school, was a caller at Commissioner Cummings' office this forenoon and he had something to say about the steps leading from the street to the school. The steps in question are of concrete and were built by the park commission about two years ago. The steps have not yet been paid for. Mr. Whitte, who was superintendent of parks at the time, said that Principal Greene of the Moody school told him to put in the steps and Mr. Whitte said he supposed that the steps were to be paid for out of the receipts from entertainments that were being held for the purpose of beautifying the school grounds. Mr. Greene says that he did not have any such understanding with Mr. Whitte and in conversation with Commissioner Cummings today, Janitor Harrington said: "It is only a question of veracity between the two men, Mr. Greene and Mr. Whitte. I know that your department cannot be made to pay for the steps," said Mr. Harrington to Mr. Cummings, "but your department has reaped the benefit of the new steps." Asked to explain how the buildings department had profited by the new steps, Mr. Harrington said that if the old steps had been allowed to remain the buildings department would have been called upon to repair them every year, or perhaps twice a year, and that the department had profited because of not having to make the repairs. Commissioner Cummings admitted that he could not quite grasp the philosophy of Mr. Harrington's remarks and just about that time City Solicitor Hennessey put in an appearance, and taking part in the discussion, stated that Commissioner Cummings could not pay for the steps if he wanted to. The steps were built during a previous year and could not be paid for out of this year's appropriations. Mr. Hennessey said that in order for Commissioner Cummings to pay the bill it would be necessary for him to get a special appropriation for that purpose. It looks as if the park department would have to foot the bill.

Hello Girls Consider Strike
BOSTON, March 28.—A large number of telephone girls, members of the recently formed operators' union, met in secret session today to consider the advisability of calling a strike to enforce the demands they have made upon the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. relative to wages and working rules.

From officials of the company the operators have learned that the company is not disposed to make further concessions after recently increasing their wages and establishing benefits for them. In order that all operators may have an opportunity to participate in the conference other meetings were arranged for the evening.

RESULT OF INQUEST

On Mullen Boy's Death
Exonerates Chauffeur

The finding on the inquest in the death of nine-year-old Edward F. Mullen, who was run down by the automobile belonging to Thomas Nesmith and operated by Alexander F. Edwards on March 12, was submitted by Judge Pickman late yesterday afternoon. The finding completely clears Edwards of criminal negligence. The finding is rather a lengthy one and deals in the first part almost wholly with the technical points of the case. The latter part of Judge Pickman's finding runs as follows: "Upon the consideration of all of the testimony, I find that the automobile turned to the left of the street to run by a wagon and possibly to avoid running into the boys in the street who were running behind the wagon, or from the wagon to the sidewalk on the southerly side of the street. "I find that the automobile was running at a moderate speed when it turned to the left of the center of the street before it struck the boy. Its speed having been checked after making the turn. "I find that the time was very brief between the turning of the automobile and the striking of the boy. Negligence is chargeable to the chauffeur by reason of his failure to give a warning signal of some kind when he made the turn to the left, and as he was running forward. "Under the decisions of this commonwealth to constitute manslaughter the killing of a person must have been the consequence of wanton or reckless conduct, i. e., if one is grossly and wantonly reckless in exposing others to danger, it holds him to have intended the natural consequence of his act and treats him as guilty of a wilful and intentional wrong. "I do not find that such wanton conduct and gross negligence on the part of the chauffeur, Alexander F. Edwards, as to make him guilty of manslaughter. "I find that on Wednesday, the twelfth day of March current, a lad named Edward F. Mullen, while running from the sidewalk on the southerly side of East Merrimack street across said street, in the city of Lowell was run into by an automobile that was being driven by one Alexander F. Edwards, the chauffeur in the employ of Mr. Thomas Nesmith of Tewksbury, in said county, and thereby sustained injuries that caused his death. "I find that the accident that caused the death was not due to the criminal negligence of said Edwards.

CARPET WEAVER'S UNION

Held Annual Entertainment and Banquet

AT ODD FELLOWS TEMPLE WITH 300 PRESENT

Very Enjoyable Occasion For Members—Dennis Healy Delivered Address

The Brussels and Wilton carpet weavers' union of Lowell held their first annual entertainment and banquet last night at Odd Fellows hall, on Middlesex street. Nearly three hundred members of the local union attended the function.

The banquet was served promptly at 8 o'clock with Charles H. Slower, the chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, in the role of toastmaster.

Mayor O'Donnell gave a fitting and spontaneous response to "The City of Lowell" and dwelt, for the most part, upon the coming observation of "Lowell Day." He paid a very fine compliment to the Lowell weavers and stated that one of the most assets that Lowell Industries possessed was the handwork of the men who manufactured the rugs and carpets for which our city is noted. He asked the co-operation of each one present to make Lowell the biggest and best manufacturing city in New England.

Dennis Healy, president of the Amalgamated Leather Workers of America, spoke on "Trades Unionism." He strongly urged the local branch to join the American Federation of Labor just as soon as it seemed feasible to the members and cited the benefits which arise from affiliation with the central body. His speech last night was a demonstration on the helpfulness of organized labor and his remarks were highly appreciated by all present.

During the evening a very enjoyable musical and literary entertainment was rendered for the guests. Vocal selections by Miss Madeline Bohad, Messrs. Doyle and McCaffrey, John S. Moir and James E. Donnelly were all pleasing features of a well spent evening while the readings of Walter Pogo proved a distinct hit.

The committee, to which all the credit for the successful evening's enjoyment was due, was composed of Chas. H. Slower, chairman; John Thomas, Daniel Roberts, John Drum, Edward Bradley, Walter Ayotte, Martin Crowe, John Melloy, Thomas Riley, Thomas Reynolds, William Rowe, and James McEvoy. William Carville was secretary and Thomas H. Smith, treasurer.

KING ALFONSO INJURED

Thrown From Pony on Madrid Polo Field

MADRID, March 28.—King Alfonso of Spain, while playing polo, fell somewhat heavily from his pony. No bones were broken, but it was feared that the king might have been injured internally.

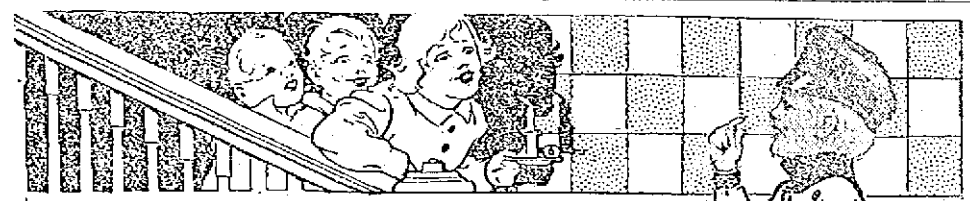

The accident occurred just as the game began. The king cantered across the field to reach his position. While doing so his pony fell and his Majesty was caught with one leg under the animal.

He was able to extricate himself without help and immediately lighted a cigarette. He suffered, however, from some severe bruises.

A whist and dancing party was conducted at the Highland club last night for the benefit of St. Margaret's church, and the affair was attended by over 200 people, which is a flattering compliment to the organizers. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all and suitable prizes were awarded the winners at whist.

The general committee included the following: Daniel Shanahan, George P. Green, William Etchell, Michael Connolly, John Barrett, Daniel Riley, Jas. Morrison, Mrs. George M. Harrison.

Headache?—It's Your Liver

Too Many People Take Headache
Powders When a Liver
Tonic is Needed

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver or bowels, will never have headache.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never grip or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Dr. Edwards' calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

ONE KILLED BY GALE

Rivers Rise as Deluge
Sweeps N. E.

BOSTON, March 28.—Greater Boston, in common with the rest of New England, felt the fury yesterday of the great storm which has laid the middle west in desolation.

Struck by the storm's tail, the city and its suburbs suffered serious damage and one life was lost.

The conditions were especially bad along the Cape, and all the telegraphic communication was cut off during the afternoon. Wires were down in many other sections of New England and reports were constantly being received in Boston of appalling floods in the Connecticut valley.

Transportation facilities were badly crippled. Many delays were occasioned trains leaving the South and South stations, while trains due from the west and the northern points of New England were several hours late.

Throughout the day the city was deluged by heavy rains, more than an inch falling according to the weather bureau. Then, a westerly wind, ever increasing in velocity, was blowing 60 miles an hour by 5 o'clock last night and sweeping before it walls, telegraph poles and chimneys.

In South Boston the fury of the blast directed the chimney on the house at 274 Fourth street which, toppling over into the yard in the rear, struck Benjamin Chestnut, a five-year-old boy, who was at play. The lad was taken to the city hospital suffering from a fractured skull and died at the institution late last night.

Scores of Disasters

Many other disasters were reported from the suburbs and the city proper did not escape. A dividing wall in the rear of the building at 32 Myrtle street collapsed about 8 o'clock last night and with a noise that could be heard for several blocks, toppled over into the property at 13 and 15 Pineknay street, occupied by Dr. G. W. Morse as the Codman hospital.

Part of the debris crashed through the window of a dining room in the hospital where Mrs. M. E. Perry, with her daughter, Irene Perry, and Joseph Hanley were at dinner. They narrowly escaped being struck by some of the pieces of brick and mortar which were hurled through the windows. Although there were a number of patients in the hospital at the time, they were soon quieted by the internes and little disturbance was caused in the wards.

It is believed that the foundation of the wall had been weakened by the heavy rains and that the gale blew it over. The Myrtle street property is owned by Martin Longanesey.

The rain was intermittent. It was particularly heavy between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, there being almost half an inch of precipitation within that time.

OPENS WAR ON SHERIFF

Haines Attacks Moulton of Cumberland

PORTLAND, Me., March 28.—Gov. William T. Haines astounded the politicians even of his own party yesterday by his message to the legislature asking that body to impeach Sheriff Lewis W. Moulton of Cumberland county for failure to enforce the prohibitory law and expressing his intention to take similar action against the sheriffs of four other counties.

By this move the governor has exercised not only the democratic office holders in Cumberland, Androscoggin and Knox counties, but has also seriously disturbed the contentment of the republicans in Penobscot county, who after four lean years have just recovered possession of county offices.

Inasmuch as Gov. Haines declared that there are five counties in which the prohibitory law is being nullified in the cities, and that the violations in Cumberland county are the most "flagrant," it is assumed that he will ask the legislature to inquire into conditions in four other counties after that body finishes the inquiry with respect to Sheriff Moulton.

The governor has, in the opinion of politicians, reopened the issue of prohibition and started a movement for enforcement which is likely to reach every part of the state.

According to the provisions of the resolve which passed the senate yesterday in response to the message of the governor, Sheriff Moulton is ordered to appear before the legislature on April 1 to answer specific charges of malfeasance in office.

BACHELOR CLUB

Will Entertain in Associate Hall This Evening—A Night at the Cabaret

Will Be Presented

The minstrel event of the season: the entertainment that everyone in this city who cares to forget temporarily life's many burdens through the enjoyment of an evening's measure of good, wholesome entertainment in the pleasure-seeking local people and that there will be a sufficient amount of full and hearty laughs, awaits for, will be staged tonight in Associate hall, when the 20th Century Bachelor club, the association largely responsible for continued devotion to minstrelsy that abounds here and that has given this form of entertainment a prominent place in the entertainments in this city, will present its annual musical comedy.

"A Night at the Cabaret" is the name of the conception that has been mixed by the members for the thirst of the pleasure-seeking local people and that there will be a sufficient amount of full and hearty laughs, awaits for, will be staged tonight in Associate hall, when the 20th Century Bachelor club, the association largely responsible for continued devotion to minstrelsy that abounds here and that has given this form of entertainment a prominent place in the entertainments in this city, will present its annual musical comedy.

A feature that will prove one of the real treats of the evening will be the playing of the new of the Bachelor club march by the orchestra of 10 pieces from an elevated platform behind the curtain, the position the orchestra will occupy during the evening. This march was composed by Richard J. Noonan, the musical director of the troupe, and will be played publicly for the first time.

The soloists who have in the past contributed the leading classical, sentimental and ragtime melodies at the club's "annual" will be present to add further laurels to the club's string of successes. The show will be preceded by dancing. Tickets will be on sale at the box office early this evening.

CHECKS

FOR SMART DRESSERS

There's a strong tendency for checks this season, among the younger men.

If you're of average height and not inclined to stoutness, a check is becoming—especially these shepherd checks.

BUT—if you go in for checks, be particular about the tailoring. A poorly tailored check suit is a joke.

It's much the same as a bank check—it's what's behind it that makes it good.

So, we're very careful what we offer you. Ours are tailored by Stein-Bloch and other good clothes makers, and you can buy them without risk.

We show a window full this week—in worsteds and velour cassimeres, in gray, blue and brown colorings—in several smart models, including the Norfolk.

Prices are $15, $17.50, $20 up to $27.50.

THEATRE PANIC AVERTED REV. JOHN T. LEE DEAD

Orchestra Plays as the Popular Lowell Priest Died This Morning

BOSTON, March 28.—To the awe of "The Star Spangled Banner" more than 2000 persons at the Round-Up in the Boston theatre last night, quietly and without the least sign of alarm, filed out into the streets, following the announcement that a threatening fire was burning in a Tremont street building directly in the rear of the play house. By the time the curtain was rung down, there was no commotion and the audience went to the street as slowly as it would have under the ordinary conditions.

At B. F. Keith's theatre, the complete program was given as usual and even the noise of the working engine and the pumping of engines was not heard. All the fire doors were closed and the theatre fire-department was ready for action in case of fire or a scare. At the Boston theatre there was no excitement.

The fire was in the five-story brick building at 135 and 139A Tremont street, occupied on the first floor by Henry H. Tuttle & Co., a shoe dealer. The fire started from an unknown cause and the loss was estimated by Chief Mullen at about $3000 on the stock of the concern and on the building. On the upper floors, which are occupied by a number of small concerns, there was some smoke and a slight water damage.

On account of the high southeast wind it was feared that the fire would assume alarming proportions and, when the flames shot through the roof, it was feared that the entire building would be destroyed. This was due to the fact that the fire went upward by way of the elevator well. However, the blaze was confined to the rear of the building on Mason street, principally to the basement.

The chief marshal orders all to report at C. Middlesex dance, Lincoln hall, tonight, March 28th.

HAD BEEN PASTOR AT JEFFERSON, MASS.

Passed Away at the Home of His Sister, Miss Alice T. Lee at 12 South Walker Street

Rev. John T. Lee, a native of Lowell, pastor of the Catholic church in Jefferson, Mass., died this morning at the home of his sister, Miss Alice T. Lee, supervision of primary schools of this city, 12 South Walker street, after a lingering illness of nearly six months. Deceased would have been 69 years of age on May 2. He is well known in Lowell and his death will be keenly felt by his many friends.

Rev. John T. Lee was born in this city on May 2, 1843 and received his early education in the Lowell public schools. He later studied at St. Charles college, Maryland, and at Nicolet, Que., and finally at the Grand Seminary in Montreal, Que., where he completed his theological studies. He was ordained to the priesthood at the same place on Dec. 22, 1877.

He was first assigned to Milford, Mass., as assistant pastor, then to Spencer and later to Gardner. From there he was appointed pastor at Shelburne Falls, where he served for a number of years. He was then transferred to Milford and from there to Jefferson, Mass., where he served as pastor of St. Mary's church for the past 18 years, holding the same position at the time of his death.

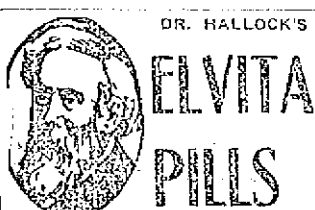

Five months ago he came here to the home of his sister, Miss Alice T. Lee, where he expected to recuperate, but instead his condition grew worse and the venerable clergyman passed away this morning, having at his bedside his brother, Rev. Philip J. Lee of Lenox, Mass. His demise will be a sad blow to his many parishioners who attended his funeral service and to those who were with him in his last hours. Deceased is survived by a brother,

BOXERS IN GOOD SHAPE

McKinnon and Grupp Ready for Gong

Five good bouts will be put on at tonight's meeting of the Lowell A. C. and the indications point to one of the largest houses of the season. In the main bout of twelve rounds, Bill McKinnon of Roxbury will meet Billy Grupp of St. Louis and this contest promises to be one of the liveliest of the season. Both are aggressive fighters and they are in good condition. The exhibition between Jimmy Gardner and Jimmy Mahan should prove interesting. Both are there with the intention of fighting for some time, and tonight's engagement will test their ability. Jimmy has long combative training and feels that he has regained his cleverness. If he has the local sports will be delighted. The semi-final will be furnished by Sailer, Rustle and Jimmy Gordon and this ought to prove a hammer. Both are there with the intention of fighting for some time, and tonight's engagement will test their ability. Young Deany, who hails from the state, will meet Gardner. Deany, of Stateville, has a six round preliminary and Jimmy Rustle will meet Young. Connelly of Lawrence in the curtain raiser.

Jim Driscoll Turns Bookmaker. Jim Driscoll, the great featherweight, has announced his retirement from the ring. This may be welcome news to some of the featherweight fighters in America who remember Driscoll's wonderful ten round exhibition four years ago in New York city, when he outboxed and outclassed Abe Attell, who at that time was the recognized featherweight champion of the world. Driscoll has been following the racing game for the past several years, and his friends on the turf are said to have made him fairly well to do, and it is his intention to set himself up as a bookmaker.

CHURCH TOWER SWAYS

Crowds Watch Building in Peril

BOSTON, March 28.—The wooden tower on the brick structure of the Harvard Street Methodist Episcopal church, Cambridge, which began to sway with the heavy winds yesterday morning, continued its rocking during the night, while a squad of officers were stationed about to warn passersby. Harvard street, a favorite thoroughfare for automobiles, was closed to traffic from Norfolk street to Prospect street, and likewise the entrance to Harvard street through Essex street.

Through the early part of the evening, despite the cold winds, men and women stood for hours watching the swaying tower, expecting it to topple any moment. Near the top of the square shaped tower is a large clock, which adds much to the weight and would carry the tower with great force should it be wrenched from its base.

For many years the bell of the clock in the tower has been used as a fire alarm signal for the city. Last night the alarm system should be an added danger should the tower fall the wires were disconnected early in the afternoon.

No one from the building department of the city was willing to enter the tower yesterday afternoon to inspect the timbers, but such an inspection will take place as soon as the wind goes down.

Gift for Sick Child

A gift which brings happiness to a sick child is a paper doll given in this way. Send the doll a small colored doll, for which you can make "crayon" dresses, with one dress, and a note to the sick child saying, "I'll give you a new dress every day, or every third day, or every week, as you please, the morning mail will bring an addition to the doll's wardrobe."

At different times, send dresses for the house, party dresses, trimmed with ribbons, flowers, hats, muffs, caps and coats, linens and street clothes. Another doll or so can also be sent.

Price 2 step, Prescott, tonight.

V. W. C. A. Notes

Miss Margaret Dinnon of Boston will speak at the vespers service Sunday at 7:30. The speaker will be Mrs. H. E. Semonds.

A Northfield meeting will be held Monday, March 31 at 8 o'clock when everybody who is interested in the proposition of opening Lowell lodge this summer is invited to come to express his enthusiastic opinion. Dr. Willard Scott, the able after-dinner talker, will be the speaker in the Y. W. C. A. course. Dr. Scott has addressed with success scores of clubs and organizations in twelve different states. His talk Tuesday evening at 7:45 in the Y. W. C. A. hall will be a humorous treat under the title "The Enchantment of the Near Future." Association members who have not yet obtained their complimentary tickets should do so early in preparation for this and the following programs, including the moving picture evening to be given April 27 by Mr. Cy Warman.

the Boston & Maine road. The service to Concord was working fairly well. Trains were running on delayed schedules north of St. Johnsbury but there have been no trains between that point and Wells river since last week. The railroad bridge over the Connecticut river at White River Junction was withstanding a terrific pressure from a broken boom of logs. Any break there was expected to threaten bridges farther down the river.

Four Washouts on C. V.
CONCORD, N. H., March 28.—A dispatch received at the general offices of the Boston & Maine road in this city this morning from the Central Vermont management announces that until further advice the road cannot accept passengers or freight for points above White River Junction. It is stated that the Central Vermont road is washed out in four places and that it will be 45 hours at least before traffic can be resumed. The Bristol branch of the Boston & Maine is again under water and passengers are being carried by coaches. On this branch the water stood a foot higher last night than on Saturday last when a long stretch of the road below Hill was washed away. The Boston & Maine bridge across the Connecticut river between West Lebanon and White River Junction was washed 18 inches out of line during the night by the flood and the debris landed against it. A large force of men was sent from here at 3 this morning and no word concerning the safety of the structure has yet reached the offices of the road here. The Passumpsic branch is also tied up and train service over it has been abandoned.

Record High Water Mark
BRATTLEBORO, Vt., March 28.—The Connecticut river early today reached the highest mark ever known here, with 15 feet of water rushing over the dam at Vernon five miles south of Brattleboro. At 8:30 a. m. the river was stationary and it was believed that the flood had reached its crest. Train service in Brattleboro has been entirely suspended as a result of the dam and no property damage has been sustained.

The cotton mills at Vernon were forced to shut down today on account of lack of power, the water below the dam having backed into the fall race. Power for street railway and electric light service was received temporarily from Shelburne Falls.

Traffic Ordered Suspended
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., March 28.—Railroad traffic over all bridges in this section was ordered suspended today until the engineering department of the Boston & Maine road can determine their safety. Passengers on the night trains north and south of here were obliged to make port of their journey in cars which through Hartford over the high bridge to West Lebanon, N. H., a distance of seven miles. The electric light service here was closed by the flood while at West Lebanon, N. H., which receives its water supply from this place, the people were without water owing to the dangerous condition of the bridge carrying the supply mains.

Landslides caused by the heavy rain blocked the tracks of the Woodstock railroad, which runs between here and Woodstock. The passengers on the last train from Woodstock were forced last night to get out of the coaches and help the train men shovel mud from the tracks.

Furniture Carried Down River
WOODSVILLE, N. H., March 28.—The crest of the Connecticut river flood passed here last night and since then the river has fallen a few inches an hour. The damage to the lowland houses was not great, though many families saw their furniture carried down the river and their gardens swept away.

The train service from the south over the White Mountain division of the Boston & Maine and west over the Wells river into Montpelier was practically intact today. Washouts at Barton on the north and at Newbury on the south on the Passumpsic division stopped trains in either direction. The service east over the White Mountain division was also cut off by washouts and it was stated that Quebec and Montreal were cut off from Boston by the central Vermont road.

LECTURE AND CONCERT
Large Attendance at St. Patrick's School Hall—Musical Program Under Direction of John J. Kelly

There was a large attendance at the lecture and concert which was held at St. Patrick's parochial school hall last evening, the affair being conducted under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society. The musical program which was in the care of Mr. John J. Kelly was one of the best ever provided and consisted of numbers from several local talents.

A feature of the evening, however, was an illustrated lecture on "The Holy Land," by William R. Goodwin. The lecture was very interesting and the series of views shown were very pleasing and instructive.

The entire program was as follows: Overture, piano duo, Miss Mary Bolton, Mr. John J. Kelly; illustrated lecture, "The Holy Land," Mr. Wm. R. Goodwin; "The Holy City," Adams, Mr. James E. Donnelly, baritone; "The Father's Prayer," Miss Frances Tighe, soprano; "The New Born King," Leopol, Mr. J. J. Bolton, baritone; "Ninety and Nine," Champion, Mrs. Nettie Sawyer Roberts, contralto.

ANNUAL BANQUET
Board of Trade Completing Arrangements for the Event—Ladies Will be Admitted

The annual banquet of the Lowell board of trade will be held at Accoriate hall on the evening of April 1 Lowell day, and notices to that effect have been sent out to all the members of the association. The dinner will be served at 6:19 o'clock, after a half hour reception.

On this particular night the gallery will be reserved for women who may secure tickets from the members of the board of trade.

NOT PLEASING HIM.
"Is your husband difficult to please?" "The matter of dress?"

"Very. When I get a gown that he likes to don't like the bill, and when the bill suits him he doesn't care a rap for the gown."

JUST LOOKED.
Wife—That's the kind of husband to have! Did you hear Mr. Bobbs tell his wife to go and look at some $100 hat? Hubby—My dear, have I never deprived you of the privilege of looking at $100 hats?

A REVERSIBLE PROVERB.
Mrs. R.—Too bad Mrs. Smart always has such unfortunate weather for her afternoon tea!
Mrs. W.—Yes; she never pours, but trains.

HER BEST EFFORT.
"Mother told me to keep Mr. Huggins at a distance while we were at Palm Beach."
"And did you?"
"Well, I succeeded in keeping him at a distance from other girls."

SMOKE TALK.
At their last meeting the members of Union Grange, National Independent Order of Farmers, held a smoke talk and entertainment for the members and their friends and for this purpose a committee was appointed. The affair will be held at the society's quarters in Grafton hall on April 2.

TO INVAD WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON, March 28.—President Wilson, for the second time in his short tenure of office, on Monday will face a committee of suffragists who will invade the White House with the demand for the ballot.

Arrangements were made today for the reception of the women by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon. The leaders of the party will include Mrs. Dubois, wife of the former senator from Idaho and Mrs. Mondak and Mrs. Baker, wives of the representatives in congress from Wyoming and California respectively.

In contrast with the previous attack on the White House the coming advance in force will be undertaken only by women who hold from these states having woman suffrage.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—President Wilson, for the second time in his short tenure of office, on Monday will face a committee of suffragists who will invade the White House with the demand for the ballot.

Arrangements were made today for the reception of the women by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon. The leaders of the party will include Mrs. Dubois, wife of the former senator from Idaho and Mrs. Mondak and Mrs. Baker, wives of the representatives in congress from Wyoming and California respectively.

In contrast with the previous attack on the White House the coming advance in force will be undertaken only by women who hold from these states having woman suffrage.
